

GERMANS RETREAT IN GREAT HURRY

Never Ending Stream of Americans Runs Onto Prince Etie's Personal Effects—Much Booty Left—Paris Safe.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
With the American Army on the Aisne-Vesle Front, August 4 (8
p. m.)—The German menace to Paris has been definitely thwarted by the German retreat by the Vesle. The German drive has ended in complete failure.

On July 15 it was believed and hoped that the enemy's designs toward Paris had been smashed, but with the foe on the Marne there was always "the sword of Damocles" overhanging the capital.

The penetration of the region just evacuated by General Von Ludendorff's army shows the suddenness of the German intention to retire from the salient and the inability of the enemy staff to decide where it was possible to make a stand.

It seems probable that the German Crown Prince selected three successive lines but that the lines were smashed by the determination of the French-American attacks.

Hugh piles of supplies left behind by the Germans betrayed the demoralization of their retreat.

The wheat fields and the grain was found cut ready for shipment home.
Miles of flight railway lines had been laid by the Germans.

There were many locomotives and rolling stock.

I visited the headquarters of Prince Etie Frederick, of the First Imperial Prussian Guards, at Reddy Farm, north of Clerges, this morning. There were unmistakable evidences that it had been suddenly evacuated. Etie Frederick leaving behind the royal shaving soap and toothbrush in the bedrooms and personal letters and photographs were found in a desk in the staff room.

Outside on a circular bench that had been built around a walnut tree places had been set for the royal mess and there was a monogrammed tablecloth on the table when the Americans arrived.

The staff officers even forgot to carry off highly interesting maps. In a drawer in the general's desk was found a roll of clippings from Allied newspapers, recounting the exploits of the American army.

A bunch of documents taken from American prisoners was found as well as typewritten transcripts of letters and answers to them from American prisoners. The replies made by the Americans were soberly handled by the enemy's staff, although they were awful balderdash, especially when the doughboys were asked to estimate the number of troops that had arrived in France. The lowest estimate was 10,000,000. When asked how they knew so many were here the doughboys invariably answered: "I know all my friends are here."

The never ending stream of Americans going forward is a wonderful sight. Those that were riding were invariably stripped to the waist because of the warm sunshine. The marchers wore high hats, silk hats, opera hats, straw hats, frock coats,
women's hats and in fact everything that they picked up in all the shell shattered villages where they had been billeted, thus presenting an incongruous sight. When the officers ordered the men to put on their steel helmets many clapped their wrist and curiously fitting headgear over the helmets.

Many picked up abandoned German machine guns and cartridge belts along the roadside. Some were mounted on artillery caissons and motor trucks and the men blazed away whenever a Boche aeroplane appeared on the scene. At meal time the troops cooked and ate their food unmindful of the German dead lying about them.

PARIS AGAIN BEING SHELLLED

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Paris, Aug. 5.—The bombardment of Paris by long range German cannon was resumed this morning.

Paris has not been bombarded
during the past few weeks. During the Allied advance north of the Marne super gun emplacements were found similar to those used for the cannon that shelled Paris.

MRS. WILSON CHRISTENS SHIP

First Big Cargo Carrier of Fifty to be Launched by January 1 at Hog Island is Sponsored by Wife of President.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Philadelphia, Aug. 5.—Amid the cheers of fully 100,000 persons, and the shrill whistles of every manufacturing plant down the river to Wilmington, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, first lady of the land, today christened the first ship to be launched from Hog Island, the Quistconck, as it slid gracefully into the Delaware river at 12:37 o'clock.

When the 7,500 ton cargo carrier
took to the water, it carried with it
the promise of fifty more identical ships, launched and fully equipped by the first of January, and the greater promise of Hog Island to produce 25
per cent of the total shipping program of the country.

The president and Mrs. Wilson, together with their immediate family
and high government officials arrived
at Hog Island on a special train from Washington at 11:30 o'clock.

PONCKHOCKIE BOY MET IN FRANCE

Walter Tammany Running a Motorcycle is Greeted by Freeman Man
in Camp—The Perils of Roller Skating.

Camp de Souge, July 1.—Have
been pretty busy for the past several days. June 30 ends the year and the books and stock must balance, so I have had little time to write. Some of your last letters were very amusing. I read them over several times and enjoyed them
more each time. Those little incidents about the neighborhood make your letters very amusing, for I feel almost like I were home when I read them.

I am getting along famously with
the French. (I am referring to the language as well as the people.) Although it was hot as the deuce Sunday, "Jake" and I went to town and over to the rink for a while. I must have been the heat seeking way. Suzie and I took a devil of a spill right in front of her mother. Out la la! The only damage was to our feelings.

The office will be full of new people when I get back, I guess. With Miss Murray gone and all the boys
in the army it must be like a new place and then up at the Branch Merritt cone. Why, every one will be strange to me. I guess I will have to accept a job out west. Jake wants to go out west to Death Valley and drive the 20 mules and wants me to come with him.

There is to be a big time in Bordeaux on the Fourth and I hope I can go on pass. But Sunday I must go to write a few lines home. I have an engagement for dinner, a combination celebration for my birthday and Suzie's, whose birthday
is the following week.

Jake is now writing a book to Florence, and as I have no time to write a book to the time to write a few lines home. I have about a dozen letters to write
but you know I don't want to cause
the censor too much trouble all at once these hot days, so will take it easy. I must write Dan Linden and Ed Woerner. I know where Ed is,
which he probably prints.

I met Walter Tammany the other
day. I was at work when one of the fellows came over and told me there was a Kingston boy over "gassing up." I went over and found Walter out there with a motorcycle. He was chattering the adjutant around. We only had a few minutes but were able to do beaucoup business in the talk time. It sure is good to meet one of the boys. I used to go to school with him at K. A. I hope to see him again when we both have more time, also Delaney DeGraft.

Well, Jake has finished his letter
and wants to go over and see the
Q. M.'s trim. The Veterinary Hospital bunch, so will close. Hope everybody is well and give everyone
my regards. Bon-nuit.

AMERICANS MAKING STEADY PROGRESS ON VESLE LINE

Signs That Enemy Will Make Stand Shortly—Allies May Outflank Teutons—Great Stores of Munitions and Thousands of Uncounted Prisoners Have Been Taken—Country Laid Waste.

Now that the Germans have been thrown back across the Vesle river, losing their great base at Pismes the Allies probably will encounter stiffened resistance.

The first sign of this came today in the communiqué of the French war office, which stated that the light French detachments which had crossed the Vesle were meeting with opposition all along the line of their advance.

It is likely that the Germans left strong rear guard forces along the line between the Vesle and the Aisne in order to hamper the Franco-American advance.

If it is the plan of the German high command to retire all the way to the heights north of the Aisne, before making a decisive stand, it would require some time for Ludendorff to get his men, guns and supplies to the northern bank of the Aisne and organize his new defense so as to meet the menace from the Rheims and Soissons flanks as well as from the center.

In their retirement north from the Vesle, the Germans laid the country in waste, applying the torch to towns and villages and blowing up bridges, which indicated that the general plan embraced a widespread retreat.

But the country south of the Aisne (between Rheims and the junction of the Aisne and Vesle rivers) is of a rolling nature favorably adapted to defensive tactics.

While the Americans have continued their steady progress on the center and the French have kept up their relentless pursuit on the Allied right, French forces pushing eastward from Soissons have been driving eastward in the Aisne valley in an effort to get in the rear of the Germans lying south of the Aisne river.

In spite of bad weather the Allies have made remarkable progress with both their infantry and artillery and already Allied batteries on the Vesle are hammering the German positions north of the river.

Great stores of German war supplies, including millions of shells and great numbers of uncounted prisoners have been captured, according to unofficial advisers.

The German salient north of the Marne is now wiped out completely, but the Allied drive continues with grinding pressure over the thirty mile front. The German drive which carried the invaders to the Marne began on May 27, but after a week of fighting died down, only to be renewed on July 15. On July 18 the Franco-Americans began their counter offensive. In the fighting since July 18—eighteen days—the Allied troops have won back nearly all of the ground that it took the Germans 51 days to overrun.

UNKNOWN MAN FOUND IN RONDOUT CREEK

Sunday afternoon the body of an unknown man was found in the Rondout creek, near Rifton, in a badly
decomposed condition. The body was found by a Rifton fisherman,
who was trying his luck along the creek. The find was reported to Sheriff Smith and he notified Coroner Kelly who removed the body to his undertaking parlors on West Union street, after it had been viewed by Dr. Ross of Port Jervis, who was summoned by the coroner.

Coroner Kelly stated this morning
that he was making every effort to have the body identified, but so far
had not been successful. It is thought the body might be that of Christian Deyo, of Tillson, who has been missing from home for the past two weeks. Mr. Deyo was a bachelor and lived alone.

FOUR INJURED

When Their Car Was Smashed Near
West Park.

Four men were quite badly injured and a big National car registered only 797 miles was badly wrecked last Monday morning at the top of the Rock Road Hill, between the Gordon and Seely estates. The men, who refused to give their names, were returning from Tannersville in the Catskills, where they had been to take their wives. The driver, a newspaper man of Paterson, N. J.,
badly cut and bruised and head cut.
The other man in the seat with him,
who was from New York, received
only a few scratches. The occupants of the back seat, both of New York,
were quite badly hurt; one man received two deep cuts in his left eye
and a cut to the bone in the center
of his forehead. The other man received a bad cut on his hip and his arms and legs were badly cut and bruised. Corrie Gonsalus, who came by soon after the accident, took the injured to the office of Dr. Reed at Highland. The Paterson man at once phoned his brother, who arrived at Highland at 2 o'clock and immediately started on the return
trip with the injured men.

launch them in the near future. The company launched its first cement

BRITISH TANKS AID AMERICANS

(By Henry G. Wales.)
By Telegram to The Freeman.

With the Army on the Aisne-
Vesle Front, Aug. 4—(10 p. m.)—
Twenty-eight square miles of French soil has been recaptured from the Germans by one American unit in the past seven days, while the Americans were advancing on a curved line nearly twenty miles wide.

Of the thousands of Germans who
were taken prisoners in the first day
of the counter offensive south of Soissons, 1,500 were taken in the Chateau Thierry region and the balance have been picked up during the German retreat.

Most of the guns taken fell into American hands during the Boche
retirement.

How British armored motor cars
equipped with one pounder guns and machine guns, aided the American advance by keeping the contact with the Germans, was thus recounted by
an officer:

"These Englishmen went out ahead, criss-crossing back and forth along every road, trail and path and even traveling through fields that were flat enough to draw machine gun fire and thus disclose the nests.
When they spotted machine guns
they circled around, suddenly changing tactics, charging straight against them and swerving aside the last moment.

"Some time field gun positions were thus revealed. In this case, it was often bad luck for the armored cars. One was struck in the raso-line tank and set on fire, but the crew continued working the one pounder, knocking out a German 3-inch gun. But the crew were so badly burned they died."

"Our boys gave the Englishmen a funeral with military honors, fired a volley over the grave. I saw several armored automobiles that had been knocked out with the graves of the occupants nearby. Improvised American and British flags were stuck into a machine, which acted as a cross."

Herbert Carl, accompanied by his

Mr. Carl made the trip by way of Albany, passing through the Mo-

Utica, Watertown to Clayton, and visited a number of the islands in the vicinity of Thousand Islands. He was particularly impressed with the beauty and favorable location of Pieton and Maple Islands, now own-secured a price on Pieton which con-expressed himself as highly pleased

marked to a friend that a compass
would be of more service to him than
a speedometer.

PARIS AGAIN BEING SHELLED

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Paris, Aug. 5.—The bombardment of Paris by long range German
cannon was resumed this morning.

Paris has not been bombarded
during the past few weeks. During
the Allied advance north of the Marne super gun emplacements were found similar to those used for the
cannon that shelled Paris.

MRS. WILSON CHRISTENS SHIP

First Big Cargo Carrier of Fifty to be Launched by January 1 at Hog Island Is Sponsored by Wife of President.

Philadelphia, Aug. 5.—Amid the cheers of fully 100,000 persons, and
the shrill whistles of every manufacturing plant down the river to Wilmington, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, first lady of the land, today christened the
first ship to be launched from Hog Island, the Quistcock, as it slid gracefully into the Delaware river at 12:37 o'clock.

When the 7,500 ton cargo carrier
took to the water, it carried with it
the promise of fifty more identical
ships, launched and fully equipped by
the first of January, and the greater
promise of Hog Island to produce 25
per cent of the total shipping program of the country.

The president and Mrs. Wilson, together with their immediate family
and high government officials arrived
at Hog Island on a special train from Washington at 11:30 o'clock.

PONCKHOCKIE BOY
MET IN FRANCE

Walter Tammany Running a Motorcycle Is Greeted by Freeman Man
in Camp—The Perils of Roller Skating.

Camp de Souge, July 1.—Have
been pretty busy for the past several days. June 30 ends the year
and the books and stock must balance, so I have had little time to write. Some of your last letters were very amusing. I read them
over several times and enjoyed them
more each time. Those little incidents about the neighborhood make your letters very amusing. For I feel almost like I were home when I
read them.

I am getting along famously with
the French. (I am referring to the language as well as the people.) Although it was hot as the deuce Sunday, "Jake" and I went to town and
over to the rink for a while. I guess it must have been the heat any way. Suzie and I took a devil
of a spill right in front of her mother. Oui, la! la! The only damage was to our feelings.

The office will be full of new people when I get back. I guess. With Miss Murray gone and all the boys
in the army it must be like a new place and then up at the Branch.
Merritt gone. Why, every one will be strange to me. I guess I will have to accept a job out west. Jake wants to go out west to Death Valley and drive the 20 mules and
wants me to come with him.

There is to be a big time in Bord-caux on the Fourth and I hope I can go on pass. But Sunday I must go for it is my birthday. I already have an engagement for dinner, a combination celebration for my birthday and Suzie's, whose birthday
is the following week.

Jake is now writing a book to Florence, and as I have no time to write a book to in the U. S. I am taking the time to write a few pages home. I have about a dozen letters to write
but you know I don't want to cause
the censor too much trouble all at
easy. I must write Dan Linden and Ed Woerner. I know where Ed is,
for we send up there for stationery,
which he probably prints.

I met Walter Tammany the other
day. I was at work when one of the fellows came over and told me there
was a Kingston boy over "gassing
up." I went over and found Walter out there with a motorcycle. He was chattering the adjutant
around. We only had a few minutes but were able to do business business in the talk line. It sure is good to meet one of the boys. I used to go to school with him at K. A. I hope to see him again when we both have more time, also De-
laney DeGraft.

Well, Jake has finished his letter
and wants to go over and see the
Q. M.'s trim the Veterinary Hospital bunch, so will close. Hope
everybody is well and give everyone
my regards. Bon-nuit.

tion met Saturday evening at its

Signs That Enemy Will Make Stand Shortly—Allies May
Outflank Teutons—Great Stores of Munitions and Thousands of Uncounted Prisoners Have Been Taken—Country Laid Waste.

Now that the Germans have been thrown back across the Vesle river, losing their great base at Fismes
the Allies probably will encounter stiffened resistance.

The first sign of this came today in the communique of the French war office, which stated that the light French detachments which had crossed the Vesle were meeting with opposition all along the line of their advance.

It is likely that the Germans left strong rear guard forces along the line between the Vesle and the Aisne in order to hamper the Franco-American advance.

If it is the plan of the German high command to retire all the way to the heights north of the Aisne, before making a decisive stand, it would require some time for Ludendorff to get his men, guns and supplies to the northern bank of the Aisne and organize his new defense so as to meet the menace from the Rheims and Soissons flanks as well as from the center.

In their retirement north from the Vesle, the Germans laid the country in waste, applying the torch to towns and villages and blowing up bridges, which indicated that the general plan embraced a widespread retreat.

But the country south of the Aisne (between Rheims and the junction of the Aisne and Vesle rivers) is of a rolling nature favorably adapted to defensive tactics.

While the Americans have continued their steady progress on the center and the French, have kept up their relentless pursuit on the Allied right, French forces pushing eastward from Soissons have been driving eastward in the Aisne valley in an effort to get in the rear of the Germans lying south of the Aisne river.

In spite of bad weather the Allies have made remarkable progress with both their infantry and artillery and already Allied batteries on the Vesle are hammering the German positions north of the river.

Vast stores of German war supplies, including millions of shells and great numbers of uncounted prisoners have been captured, according to unofficial advices.

The German salient north of the Marne is now wiped out completely, but the Allied drive continues with grinding pressure over the thirty mile front. The German drive which carried the invaders to the Marne began on May 27, but after a week of fighting died down, only to be renewed on July 15. On July 18 the Franco-Americans began their counter offensive. In the fighting since July 18—eighteen days—the Allied troops have won back nearly all of the ground that it took the Germans 51 days to overrun.

The new week opens with every prospect of fresh and important success during the next six days.

UNKNOWN MAN FOUND IN THE SERVICE IN ROWDOUT CREEK

Sunday afternoon the body of an unknown man was found in the Row-dout creek, near Rifton, in a badly
decomposed condition. The body
was found by a Rifton fisherman,
who was trying his luck along the creek. The find was reported to Sheriff Smith and he notified Coroner Kelly who removed the body to his undertaking parlors on West Union street, after it had been viewed by Dr. Ross of Port Jervis, who was summoned by the coroner.

Coroner Kelly stated this morning
that he was making every effort to
had not been successful. It is thought the body might be that of Christian Deyo, of Tilton, who has been missing from home for the past two weeks. Mr. Deyo was a bachelor
and lived alone.

servatism and most efficient use of labor and material at their command, and that newspapers practice paper consumption in daily editions by fifteen per cent and Sunday editions by twenty per cent.

FOUR INJURED
When Their Car Was Smashed Near
West Park.

Four men were quite badly injured and a big National car registered 797 miles was badly wrecked
last Monday morning at the top of
the Rock Road Hill, between the Gordon and Seely estates. The men,
who refused to give their names, were
returning from Tannersville in the Catskills, where they had been to take their wives. The driver, a newspaper man of Paterson, N. J.,
badly cut and bruised and head cut.
The other man in the seat with him,
who was from New York, received
only a few scratches. The occupants
of the back seat, both of New York,
were quite badly hurt; one man received two deep cuts in his left eye
and a cut to the bone in the center
of his forehead. The other man received a bad cut on his hip and his arms and legs were badly cut and bruised. Corlie Gonsalus, who came by soon after the accident, took the injured to the office of Dr. Reed at Highland. The Paterson man at once phoned his brother, who arrived at Highland at 2 o'clock and
immediately started on the return
trip with the injured men.

oil and coal barges for the navy department of the government and will launch them in the near future. The company launched its first cement
boat at this plant about two months ago, and is now engaged in "four-

FEW OF OUR WOUNDED DIE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, August 5.—Only four and a half per cent of all men sent to the hospital as a result of wounds received in action, die from those wounds. Chief of Staff General Pe-ton C. March announced today.

Eighty per cent of the men sent to the hospitals for treatment, return to duty, many of them in less than two months, he explained.

Of the total sent to hospitals only fourteen and a half per cent are discharged from the service for physical disabilities. These figures, he said, were based on the official casualty figures of the British and the French, while Americans were brigaded with them.

The official figures made public by General March are:
Returned to Service—81 per cent,
819 out of every 1,000.

Discharged From Service—14½
per cent, or 145 out of every 1,000.

Deaths From Wounds—4½
per cent, or 45 out of every 1,000.

BRITISH TANKS AID AMERICANS

(By Henry G. Wales.)
By Telegram to The Freeman.
With the Army on the Aisne-
Vesle front, Aug. 4—(10 p. m.)—
Twenty-eight square miles of French
soil has been recaptured from the Germans by one American unit in the past seven days, while the Americans were advancing on a curved line nearly twenty miles wide.

Of the thousands of Germans who
were taken prisoners in the first day
of the counter offensive south of Soissons, 1,500 were taken in the Chateau Thierry region and the balance have been picked up during the German retreat.

Most of the guns taken fell into American hands during the Boche
retirement.

How British armored motor cars
equipped with one pounder guns and
machine guns, aided the American
advance by keeping the contact with
the Germans, was thus recounted by
an officer:

"These Englishmen went out ahead, cross-crossing back and forth along every road, trail and path and
even traveling through fields that
were flat enough to draw machine
gun fire and thus disclose the nests.

When they spotted machine guns
they circled around, suddenly changing tactics, charging straight against
them and swerving aside the last moment.

"Some time field gun positions,
were thus revealed. In this case, it
was often bad luck for the armored cars. One was struck in the gasoline tank and set on fire, but the
crew continued working the one
pounder, knocking out a German 8-inch gun. But the crew were so badly burned they died."

"Our boys gave the Englishmen a funeral with military honors. Fred a volley over the grave. I saw several armored automobiles that had been knocked out with the graves of the occupants nearby. Improvised American and British flags were stuck into a machine, which acted as
a cross."

AMERICAN TANKER
SUNK BY U-BOAT

German Submarine Bags Big Standard Oil Craft Off Virginia Coast—Captain and Thirteen Men Missing.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Aug. 5.—The American tanker O. B. Jennings, was sunk by shell fire from a German submarine one hundred miles off the Virginia coast, the navy department announced today. Thirty survivors of the vessel have been landed at Norfolk, by naval vessels, the statement added.

Wireless calls between 11 a. m.
and noon yesterday reached the navy department, saying a vessel was being gunned by a U-boat. Naval vessels were immediately dispatched to the location indicated and picked up the survivors, who were in open boats.

A boat containing the captain and thirteen men are still missing.

The Jennings was a vessel of 7-800 net tons and built in 1917 for the Standard Oil Company.

TO DECLARE WAR ON BOLSHEVIK

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Aug. 5.—The provisional government at Omsk, in Siberia, intends to issue a formal declaration of war against the Soviet (the Bolshevik) government, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen today, quoting the semi-official Russian newspapers Pravda and Isvestia.

The Czech-Slavs (Pro-Allies) have ordered mobilization in all of the Russian territories they have occupied, said a Central News dispatch from Amsterdam, quoting advices received there from Moscow.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Back.

Herbert Carl, accompanied by his wife, who have recently been touring the state in their new Oldsmobile runabout, purchased of A. H.
Chambers, have returned to the city.
Mr. Carl made the trip by way of Albany, passing through the Mohawk valley, to the St. Lawrence river, passing through Amsterdam, Utica, Watervort to Clayton, and visited a number of the islands in the vicinity of Thousand Islands. He
was particularly impressed with the beauty and favorable location of Pictou and Maple Islands, now owned by the estate of R. E. Emery, and secured a price on Pictou which contains about 134 acres with some fine buildings. It was the first occasion when Mr. Carl had driven his car on such an extended trip, and expressed himself as highly pleased with its performance, but quietly remarked to a friend that a compass
would be of more service to him than
a speedometer.

BY BARGE CANAL LOWER RATES

Recent Official Circular to Shippers Corrects Previous Report, Saying That Government Rates Are Lower Than By Rail and Private Boat Owners at Liberty to Compete With Them.

Shippers who have anticipated with much satisfaction on the prospect of well balanced rates on freight through the operation of the barge canal were surprised some time ago to read an announcement that the rates on the barge canal in this state would be adjusted to conform to the rates of shipments on the government managed railroads.

An official report from the American Exchange National Bank of New York city sent to its Kingston subscribers will be very gratifying to large shippers by canals, of which there are many in this city and county. The owners of boats, also largely represented in Kingston, will be more than gratified that they are permitted by this, the latest government order, to charge such rates as their interests dictate without being governed by the federal rates. The announcement is as follows: "The railroad administration has lowered freight rates on the New York state barge canal about 20 per cent on intrastate and 10 per cent on interstate traffic, as compared with all rail rates, for the purpose of deflecting traffic from the congested railroads to the water routes. It is essential for the welfare of the nation that the canal be used to full capacity, and shippers within the state and on the great lakes should co-operate for the purpose."

"Much misinformation exists regarding government operation of the canals, the circular says. 'The rates fixed by the railroad administration apply only to boats operated by the government. Any private corporations or individual can buy or build barges and operate them freely on the canal, and can cut the government rates as much as they please in either interstate or intrastate traffic. The canal is a free highway for all comers. For local traffic the government will be about 25 per cent less than the rail rates; but private barge owners can charge still less if they choose.'"

"SUB" CHASER SUNK OFF COAST

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Aug. 5.—Submarine Chaser 187 was sunk off the Virginia coast in a collision with another vessel, the navy department announced this afternoon. There was no loss of life. The name of the other vessel that figured in the crash was not made public.

MONTOMA.

Montoma, Aug. 5.—The Glenford M. E. Sunday school is arranging for a home day and picnic, to be held in the grove near the Glenford Church on August 20. All our old friends are invited to come and spend the day with us and have a good time.

Miss Emily Neher of New Canaan, Conn., is spending a couple of weeks with her mother, Mrs. H. Neher. Miss Delia Hendricks of Woodstock spent Friday with her sister, Mrs. R. W. Stoutenberg.

Some of the people from this place went fishing to Lake Kenosia on Friday. Miss Lulu DeGraff spent Saturday afternoon and evening with her mother, Mrs. O. F. DeGraff. Miss Blanche Stoutenberg and Miss Edna Green of Brooklyn are stopping at the Montoma Lake Cottage.

To Measure Day.
The length of the day and night at any time of the year may be easily ascertained by doubling the time of the sun's setting for the length of the day, and doubling the time of its rising for that of the night.

TANNERSVILLE LAW UNCONSTITUTIONAL

New Yorker Who Questions Validity of High License For Other Than Local Autos, Is Fined For Speeding.

The village of Tannersville on the 3rd of May passed an ordinance undertaking to regulate the license fee for automobiles, etc. They fixed the fee at $2 per annum for residents or taxpayers of the town and for outsiders at $35.

Nathan Warm, who came from New York and had an automobile, paid the license fee of $35 and then he wanted to use a much larger car for carrying passengers and they insisted that he pay another $35.

He then consulted Ex-Mayor William D. Brinnier of the law firm of Brinnier, Canfield and Brinnier, and upon examination of the ordinance, Mr. Brinnier advised him that it was unconstitutional as discriminating between a resident of the village and another and he was not obliged to pay it. He thereupon operated his second car and the village authorities did not arrest him, having also found out that the ordinance was invalid but they did arrest him for violating the speed ordinance, the penalty of which was not to exceed $100. A jury trial was had and the jury rendered a verdict and found him guilty of exceeding the speed limit and fixed his fine at $20. The case was tried by Judge William D. Brinnier, Jr., for Mr. Warm, at Tannersville last week. Mr. Warm will now sue to recover the $35 which he paid on the illegal ordinance. Michael and Edward Lackey were attorneys for the village.

POSTMASTER TO MAKE INQUIRY

Rumored Punishment for U. S. Employee Who Sent Word He Is Ill, for Pro-German Remark Made in a Broadway Saloon.

There is much agitated comment around town today about an alleged attack on a post office employee said to have been made by a man working in the Mill street brush factory, for a pro-German remark the post-office employee is alleged to have made in a saloon in the city Saturday night.

It is stated that the employee of the brush factory took the other down with such force that the unfortunate man was ten minutes recovering consciousness. The names are withheld for the present until an investigation can be made by the postmaster, who stated this morning that he is making an inquiry.

He said that the post office employee, whose name was mentioned to him, had not come to work today and had sent word that he is ill. "If I learn of any employee of the post office uttering pro-German sentiments, and it is proven, he will not be kept on his job," said Mr. De Witt. He made it clear, and it is fair to presume from the well known attitude of the postmaster on the subject, that any employee in the slightest showing pro-German sentiment will receive short shift.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Aug. 5.—Although trading was generally quiet at the opening of the stock market today, advances were made in many stocks with specialties again demanding the greatest attention. International Harvester was the most prominent feature, moving up four points to 128½. The announcement of the supreme court decision directing the disintegration of the Harvester Corporation was construed as a bullish factor and induced good buying from interests identified with the large holders of the property. American Smelting and Ref. Co. advanced, moving up one point to 124, and General Motors advanced ¾ to 146½. The steel issues developed strength with Steel Common ranging from 108 to 108½ and Baldwin, which opened ¼ down at 90¼, moved up to 90¾. The copper stocks were irregular. Railway stocks were quiet.

The market was extremely dull and quiet during the forenoon, except for a few specialties which were active and strong. There was good buying of International Harvester, which was bought as a natural sequence of the voluntary dissolution of the company. That issue sold up to 128½, a gain of four points. Liberty 3½'s again sold at par. The market closed strong; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

YOUTHFUL POET

Gets Honorable Mention in New York Sun Contest.

Charlotte F. Kennedy of 12 East Chestnut street, this city, contributed yesterday to the Sock Song Contest, which is being conducted by the New York Sunday Sun, three prizes being awarded each week.

Miss Kennedy submitted the following:

I am only a girl, I cannot answer
That call that thrills and awes—
I am not old enough to give My life to the great cause.
I am only a girl, but I can follow
The never changing laws;
O, I am old enough to give My work to the great cause!

CHARLOTTE F. KENNEDY.
12 East Chestnut street, Kingston, N. Y.

The contest editor in his review of the contributions submitted, says:

"Miss Charlotte F. Kennedy, of honorable mention today, sent in 'a few little attempts,' as she wrote, 'just for the fun of trying.' (There you are!) She added that her age was 16, for which reason it was an additional pleasure to the Sock Song editor to find one of her 'little attempts' among those to appear."

Human Development.

Man has been on the earth perhaps some twenty odd thousand years, and it is only the last three thousand that we are much concerned with. To suppose that a modern Englishman must necessarily be at a higher stage of mental development than an ancient Greek is almost the same mistake as to argue that Browning must be a better poet than Wordsworth because he came later. If the soul, or the brain, of man is developing, it is not developing as fast or so steadily as all that.—Gilbert Murray in the Century Magazine.

Bird Protection in Australia.

In New Zealand there are now 29 acclimation societies, organized for the purpose of protecting the native wild life of the country and introducing and protecting new game birds and animals. The societies are all chartered by the government and are under government supervision. They have introduced into the colony a large number of pheasants of different varieties, California quail, Australian opossums, woodcock, rainbow trout, salmon, etc. The societies pay bounties for the destruction of hawks and other enemies of useful birds and mammals.

Drilling Hard Steel.

In preparing a drill to be used on hard steel, the drill should be heated to an even heat, the scale removed and the tip of the drill be touched to a drop of quicksilver and then be quenched in water. After this treatment the drill will go through the hardest steel without trouble. A simple method of tempering small tools quickly is to heat them red hot and then thrust them into a potato, after which they should be drawn to the correct temper to remove brittleness.

Best to Face Facts in Life.

There are very few of us who find life all that we pictured it in our youth. Often it proves very hard for us, because we insist upon idealizing it instead of taking it as it is. We must not refuse to face facts. It would be very satisfying and beautiful, perhaps, if life could be what we want it. But the truth is that we cannot take it and make it over to our own ends. However, we can take ourselves in hand and fit ourselves to life, if we will.—Exchange.

Germany's Oldest Railroad.

The oldest railroad in Germany is one of the shortest in the world. The Ludwig railway, connecting the cities of Furth and Nuremberg, is just three and three-quarters miles long, and has never been extended. It was conceived by Johannes Scharrer, a wealthy hop merchant, the Philadelphia Inquirer tells us. The plan was first published in 1832, and as King Ludwig favored its construction it was named after him. There are about 90 employees. The railroad carries about 4,000,000 passengers a year.

Use of Peltry in History.

In using peltry we walk backward in history. In what we moderns call the early history of Europe much that was lovely was done with peltry. And further back, when artificial heat was not known, when men and women lived in damp huts or palaces, when life was crude and raw and self-sacrificing in a way that we may never know, peltry was the true means of covering the body and making one's self not only beautiful, but comfortable.

NOT A WORLD UMPIRE.

If anybody has any lingering doubt as to the dominant position occupied by this country and its president in the present world-war, it ought to be removed by the recent utterances of three eminent Europeans. Maximilian Harden of Germany, refers to "the new world order" which "binds all the Allied powers united under America." T. P. O'Connor, the Irish editor, after a talk with President Wilson, whom he describes as a man of "rigid adhesion to well thought out principles," as of "almost Celtic impulsiveness" and as "more dominantly Celt than Scotch Irish"—after practically claiming the President as an Irishman and thus paying him an Irishman's highest compliment, O'Connor carries "a message of cheer to everybody in Europe" on the side of the Allies. Then comes John Dillon, Irish Nationalist leader in the House of Commons, proposing "the reference of the Irish question (for settlement) to President Wilson."

President Wilson's voice, as he speaks in behalf of the great country which has placed him at its head, is indeed likely to be very potent in the arrangements of peace terms and the decisions as to the future of a defeated Germany, but he is not and will never attempt to assume the position of a world-umpire. He has no intention of embarrassing Great Britain by undertaking to settle the Irish question even by suggestion. Moreover, he would not wish to make such an attempt even if the British government cordially invited him to do so. For he is too observant a man not to be well assured that he would no sooner settle the Irish question than the Irish themselves would unsettle it. The Irish are chronically opposed to being settled and they would not abide for two hours by the rulings of the greatest and most benevolent of world-umpires, even if such a person or potentate were available.

"Second only to the depression of German morale, I count the famous fighting of the new American troops as the most splendid encouragement of the last week. * * * They have shown they can fight like tigers and obey orders and remain disciplined," writes Col. Repington, one of England's foremost military critics. Both French and English critics have been amazed at the performances of American troops and it is not surprising. For the first time since the war began a German drive was stopped before it got fairly started, and turned into retreat with disastrous consequences. There is no tradition in the American army of the invincibility of the Prussian guard regiments, and recent events indicate that that helps a lot. Once equality in numbers is attained by the Allies, the offensive will pass from German hands. The swing against Germany which began this spring is growing in momentum every day with every installment of the American army that is landed in France.

Count "Spurlock Versenkt" Luxemburg is in disgrace. Unlike Thackeray's Becky Sharp, who was "not innocent, only not found out," the unspeakable Luxemburg is innocent enough from his imperial master's point of view, but the trouble is that he blundered and focussed the international limelight upon his ugly work.

The cornered editor of the New York Fatherland says Germany "got nothing" for its fifty millions spent in America, but, while German propaganda failed of its prime object, it undoubtedly succeeded in poisoning a considerable part of the public mind and delayed our entry into the war.

There are heroes who risk all in their country's service far from the battle front—such as young Dr. Sanford of Johns Hopkins University, who is dead from blood poisoning caused by accidental inoculation while engaged in Government research work.

In transporting 300,000 soldiers a month as well as all the supplies and food needed by our armies and our Allies we are certainly making a mock of the Kaiser's submarines.

which were booked to drive all Allied commerce from the seas.

A church convention in Berlin is shocked at the decadence of German morals. If the German people have sunk to the level of the morale of their rulers, their estate is low indeed.

REPORT ON GRAIN

Threshed Must Be Made To Farm Bureau Manager Monthly.

Owners and operators of threshers must make a report of all grain threshed to the farm bureau manager. The report for Ulster county will be summarized in the farm bureau office and forwarded to Washington.

Under Section 2 of an Act of Congress, approved by President Wilson, the secretary of agriculture has authorized and instructed the chief of bureau of markets to obtain monthly reports of all grain threshed. As a war measure, Farm Bureau Manager C. F. Cochrane has been directed by Charles Brand, chief of bureau of markets, and C. B. Smith, chief of office of extension north and west, to make a report of all grain threshed in Ulster county each month and on the first week of each month telegraph this report to Washington.

Record books have been received at the Farm Bureau office and are ready for distribution to the operators of grain threshers in Ulster county. These books must be used in keeping the record of all grain threshed for each individual farmer. A complete report must be returned to the Farm Bureau office at the end of each month, showing the names and addresses of the farmer who has and his grain threshed and the number of bushels of each kind of grain threshed.

The object of this is to secure an accurate record of all grain threshed in the U. S. so that the federal government and food administrator may know exactly what the resources of our grain supply are. Each operator of a grain thresher in Ulster county is requested to send his name and address at once to the Farm Bureau office and secure one of these record books and further information in regard to making monthly reports. This is a war measure and every thresherman is expected to co-operate to the fullest extent.

By T. E. Benedict.

The people of Denning will have the pleasure of hearing a patriotic address by the Hon. Thomas E. Benedict, of Napanoch, at their Community Meeting to be held on August 9th at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Benedict thus replies to the invitation of the Home Defense Committee:

Napanoch, N. Y., Aug. 2, 1918.

Mrs. A. W. Dimock, Pekamoose, N. Y.,
My Dear Madam:

I will attend your Claryville meeting, the 9th, as you request.

The noble work of our country's women at this period is wonderful and grand.

Truly yours,

T. E. BENEDICT.
At this Community Meeting Miss Lillian Stuart, home demonstration agent of Ulster county, will give an interesting lecture on war foods, illustrated with lantern slides. There will be singing of patriotic songs. The Home Defense Committee of the district, led by Mrs. George W. Ertz, has been preparing for this meeting for some time and a large attendance is confidently expected.

Waterfront Notes.

The ferry transport had to make several extra trips on Sunday in order to take care of the heavy auto traffic. The big ferry will carry from 16 to 18 automobiles at a time. All day Sunday the traffic was heavy and some times during the day the automobiles were lined up along the curb quite a distance up Hasbrouck avenue. Saturday and Sunday prove to be the busy days for the ferry during the summer.

Fishing along the Rondout creek front proves a popular sport with many young boys as well as older men. They catch mostly perch. The bait that seems to be the best liked by the fish are clams, although perch bite on worms as well. A few carp are also caught.

Further up the Rondout creek near Edenville the black bass are said to be biting fairly well and some good catches are reported.

The boatyards along the creek are all busy and several barges are rapidly nearing completion.

AMERICANS TOOK BRILLIANT PART

American troops have had a brilliant share in throwing the Germans back from the Marne to the Alsace-Vesle line. When the great Allied counter offensive opened, the Americans were employed against the western flank of the German salient, between Soissons and Chateau Thierry. In the second phase of the fighting the Americans took up positions north of the Marne. Finally, however, men from General Pershing's army took over a large portion of the center, being brigaded with French veterans. It was the Americans on the center who drove forward more than six miles late Friday and Saturday, capturing the great German base at Plesmes on the Rheims-Soissons railway and the Vesle river.

COBLESKILL SCHOOL

Is Making Plans For Large Number of Students.

The New York State School of Agriculture at Cobleskill is making plans for a large increase in registration this fall. Ten counties in New York state are now represented by students at the school, which is beginning its third year of operation.

The school is well located to serve all of Eastern New York state. Cobleskill being 45 miles from Albany on the main line of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad, running from Montreal to Binghamton.

The school is exceptionally well equipped in every way to render service to the boys and girls of New York state. It offers a two year course in agriculture with an opportunity to specialize and a two year course in domestic science.

The work is very practical; the school farm and herd of purebred livestock being used for instruction purposes. Students who have completed 8th grade work and who are less than 16 years of age and who can furnish evidence of good character are admitted.

The world realizes to a greater degree than ever before the value of training. Real education consists of training in those things which can be made of immediate service to self and to country. In no walk of life does adequate training mean more than in agriculture and home making.

With this in mind the state of New York established the school at Cobleskill in order that its citizens might send their children without charge for training in matters of vital importance to the welfare of the state.

Full information may be obtained by writing to H. B. Knapp, Director, Cobleskill, N. Y.

MOVING DAY THOUGHTS.

At last we are permanently located. Our new address is No. 6 West Fifty-seventh Street. We have four floors in a modern office building. The telephone number is the same here as at 220,—Circle 4400.

When the old-fashioned German mother is told the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth; when she is told that America has set its heart and soul against mob-law, and that men and women with German names cannot be mistreated by an American citizen, acting of his own accord,—well the German mother is going to continue her hard thinking. She is doing some hard thinking now. She will soon reach that stage in her thoughts where she will realize that the Hohenzollerns are fighting to save themselves and not the people of Germany.

Hoover is no longer ours exclusively. He belongs to all of that part of the world which still retains confidence in the old-fashioned ideals of life and let live.

Our sugar ration has been cut one pound per month per person. We are now asked to confine our use of sugar to two pounds per month per person instead of three. And all that the world may be saved for the people who want to live decently. Yet there are some grown-up persons in this country contemptible enough to slip a waiter a dime in order to get an extra portion of sugar to satisfy selfish appetites. The chief offenders are men and a type of women that have never been known to give up anything that stood between them and self-satisfaction.

We heard a well dressed man making an awful pother the other night in a public eating place. What about? A little girl asked him to buy a War Savings Stamp. He said in effect that he was being held up. Poor fish! He probably had up to that time been a generous buyer and giver. He was painfully annoyed. He let his feelings out in the washroom so that his neighbors might know how much he had done. Poor fish! What would he say if the cooties made an attack on him? The least we can do is to be respectful to the men and women who are performing unpleasant tasks for us. This poor fish might have said, for instance, "My dear, I am sorry, but I have gone the limit today," or "I'm broke," or "tomorrow." The little girl would have thanked him and understood.

There is no whining over there when some officer calls out in the middle of the night: "Jones, take your company and don't come back until you have cleared the way for the army to move into the heart of the enemy."

OUR LETTER BOX

Replies to food questions, particularly about sugar, from readers of the Bulletin answered by experts of the U. S. Food Administration.

J. J. E. (Elmira).—Yes, there is a punishment for householders who hoard sugar or other foods. The Food Control act provides for fines of not more than $5,000, and imprisonment for hoarding by manufacturers, dealers or householders.

L. N. (Lake Placid).—The English method of preserving fruit, which requires no sugar, is as follows: Place fruit over a gentle heat until sufficient moisture comes out to prevent burning, then increase heat until the fruit boils. Boil one hour, stirring constantly, and can in sterilized jars. In the case of fruits which have a low moisture content, such as apples, a little water should be added to prevent burning.

EDITH L. (Monticello).—Under present rationing, each person is limited to three pounds of sugar per month, and in many patriotic households the monthly consumption per person has been reduced considerably below this amount. Beginning Aug. 1, the ration will be reduced to two pounds per month per person.

"ANXIOUS" (Rensselaer).—No, there is no danger of a sugar famine, but there is an actual shortage compared with pre-war days, when Americans used eighty pounds per capita per year. If our people will confine themselves to the quantities allowed under the Food Administration's new rulings there will be sufficient sugar for our needs.

E. R. V. (Kirkwood).—Yes, you should use sugar substitutes whenever possible. The substitutes include honey, corn syrup, maple sugar, maple syrup, sorghum, fruit, fruit juices, etc.

T. M. A. (Chenango).—Apply to the deputy Food Administrator in your county for sugar for home canning. Usually certificates must be signed by persons who wish sugar for canning purposes. These certificates are presented to the dealers who sell the sugar, and they are then forwarded to the Federal Food Administrator who keeps check on canning requisitions.

J. J. E. (Colesville).—All public eating places are limited as to sugar. They may purchase not more than three pounds for every ninety meals served up to Aug. 1 and two pounds for every ninety meals on and after that date.

"FARMERETTES" ARE MAKING GOOD

Too Much Credit Cannot Be Given Girls Who Are Helping Empire State Go "Over the Top" in War Food Drive.

The farmerette in New York State has demonstrated her value, and next year, it is predicted, there will be demands from the farm owners for thousands of them as against hundreds this year. Reports from all parts of the state, where the experiment of using women and girls to make up for the depleted manpower on the farms has been tried, agree that the farmerette is a splendid success.

The work which they have done and are doing shows that they are capable of performing all except the very heaviest farm labor, and some of them can even do this satisfactorily. Driving a tractor, plowing, harrowing and pitching hay—these are among the more strenuous things which some of the farmerettes have accomplished successfully. The large majority of them, of course, have been employed in lighter work, such as cherry and berry picking, cultivating and gathering vegetables and the myriad of farming chores which do not require so much muscle and brawn.

Make Record as Cherry Pickers.

A camp of twenty farmerettes on the farm of Henry Sheffield at North Germantown and a camp of nine girls on the farm of Sanford Hoover at Germantown made a record for fast cherry picking. The North Germantown camp was under the supervision of Miss Mora Crossman of Dolgeville, N. Y., a graduate of the Sargent School and well fitted for the work. The ages of the farmerettes in this camp ranged from fifteen to forty years and they included college girls and factory workers of several nationalities, yet they all worked together in harmony.

A unit at Elmira, composed of girls from Elmira College, has done splendid work. One of the girls has been driving a tractor for about six weeks, plowing, harrowing, etc. At Ithaca a unit of young women from Cornell University has been doing excellent work during the berry picking season. At Apalachin, in Tioga county, a unit of girls has run its own camp without supervisor or cook. The girls named their camp "No Man's Land."

Girls Enjoy the Work.

At Conklin, in Broome county, is another unit which has been doing good work, and on the farm of Edgar Emple, at Sharon Springs, twenty girls have been busily engaged picking fruit. Another unit of fifty girls is at work in Fulton county.

Phosphate Industry of Tunis.

Since the discovery of phosphate deposits in Tunis in 1880 the industry has developed to such an extent that two of the largest phosphate mines in the world are now producing near the Algerian frontier.

"THE STORE FOR WAR-TIME SAVINGS"

POULTRY

Unless Parasites Are Controlled They Have Marked Effect on Number of Eggs Produced.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) Poultry raisers should be on the lookout for lice and mites, for they get busier than ever with the coming of warm weather. Unless they are controlled at this season they will have a marked effect on the number of eggs produced by laying hens, and the number of chicks raised. Poultry houses should be thoroughly cleaned, whitewashed, or sprayed with kerosene or kerosene emulsion at this season. The hens should also be provided with a good dust box, and insect powder should be dusted among their feathers.

Mites usually stay in the cracks of the henhouses and under the roosts in the daytime, where they lay their eggs. At night when the fowls go to roost the mites come out of their hiding places, attach themselves to the fowls, and feed by sucking blood from the birds. To get rid of them the houses should be cleaned and sprayed thoroughly, including the nests, the dropping boards, and roosts. The poultry house that is kept clean and has plenty of sunlight and ventilation is usually free from mites. Immediately after cleaning the house should be whitewashed or sprayed. An effective whitewash is made by slaking one-half peck of lime in 20 gallons of water. Add one pound of salt, previously dissolved, and two quarts of crude carbolic acid, or one gallon of stock dip, and apply the mixture with a spray pump or brush. Kerosene, crude oil, or some good preservative manufactured from coal tar, sprayed about the interior of the house, especially in the cracks and crevices, is an effective means of killing mites. If kerosene is used it is necessary to continue to spray every 10 days or two weeks.

Dusting Lice-Infested Fowl.

throughout the warm weather. The effect of crude oil or wood preservative is much more lasting.

Inasmuch as lice spend a greater part of their time on the fowls, the most effective treatment is that which is applied directly to the birds. The cleanliness of the house, however, is of equal importance if the lice are to be gotten rid of entirely. The two most practical methods of fighting lice are dusting or using a paste or an ointment. Provide a good dust box containing a mixture of road dust or wood ashes and allow the hens to dust themselves. Dusting the hens by hand is effective and is especially recommended for setting hens and fowls that are very much infested with lice. A good homemade dust or louse powder is made by mixing together one and one-half pints of gasoline and one pint of crude carbolic acid with four quarts of plaster of Paris. Allow it to dry, crush to a powder, and work it well into the feathers by hand. One of the most effective ointments used to destroy lice is a mixture of equal parts of blue ointment with vaseline or lard. Mix these ingredients thoroughly and apply a small portion (about the size of a pea) to the top of the head, under the wings, and around the vent.

Note—Blue ointment should not be used on hatching hens and small chicks.

Average Size Should Be at Least Ten Hens to Produce 100 Dozen Eggs a Year.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.) Here are some safe figures about what can be expected of a back-yard flock. Each hen in her pullet year should produce ten dozen eggs. The average size of the back-yard flock should be at least ten hens. Thus each flock would produce in a year 100 dozen of eggs, which, at the conservative value of 25 cents a dozen, would be worth $25. But the 100 dozen is more important than the $25.

Old-Fashioned Idea. The old-fashioned idea that round eggs would hatch pullets, and long or pointed eggs cockerels, is entirely without foundation.

Use Hens for Breeders. Don't breed from pullets at all if you can use hens instead.

Recent Official Circular to Shippers Corrects Previous Report, Saying That Government Rates Are Lower Than By Rail and Private Boat Owners at Liberty to Compete With Them.

Shippers who have anticipated with much satisfaction on the prospect of well balanced rates on freight through the operation of the barge canal were surprised some time ago to read an announcement that the rates on the barge canal in this state would be adjusted to conform to the rates of shipments on the government managed railroads. An official report from the American Exchange National Bank of New York city sent to its Kingston subscribers will be very gratifying to large shippers by canal, of which there are many in this city and county. The owners of boats, also largely represented in Kingston, will be more than gratified that they are permitted by this, the latest government order to charge such rates as their interests dictate without being governed by the federal laws. The announcement is as follows: "The railroad administration has lowered freight rates on the New York state barge canal about 20 per cent on intrastate and 10 per cent on interstate traffic, as compared with all rail rates, for the purpose of deflecting traffic from the congested railroads to the water routes. It is essential for the welfare of the nation that the canal be used to full capacity, and shippers within the state and on the great lakes should co-operate for the purpose."

Much misinformation exists regarding government operation of the canal, the circular says. "The rates fixed by the railroad administration apply only to boats operated by the government. Any private corporations or individual can buy or build barges and operate them freely on the canal, and can cut the government rates as much as they please in either interstate or intrastate traffic. The canal is a free highway for all comers. For local traffic the government rate will be about 25 per cent less than the rail rates, but private barge owners can charge still less if they choose."

TANNERSVILLE LAW UNCONSTITUTIONAL

New Yorker Who Questions Validity of High License For Other Than Local Autos, Is Fined For Speeding.

The village of Tannersville on the 3rd of May passed an ordinance undertaking to regulate the license fee for automobiles, etc. They fixed the fee at $2 per annum for residents or taxpayers of the town and for outsiders at $3.

Nathan Warm, who came from New York and had an automobile, paid the license fee of $5 and then he wanted to use a much larger car for carrying passengers and they insisted that he pay another $3.

He then consulted Ex-Mayor William D. Brinner of the law firm of Brinner, Canfield and Brinner, and upon examination of the ordinance, Mr. Brinner advised him that it was unconstitutional as discriminating between a resident of the village and another and he was not obliged to pay it. He thereupon operated his second car and the village authorities did not arrest him, having also found out that the ordinance was invalid but they did arrest him for violating the speed ordinance, the penalty of which was not to exceed $100. A jury trial was had and the jury rendered a verdict and found him guilty of exceeding the speed limit and fixed his fine at $20. The case was tried by Judge William D. Brinner, Jr., for Mr. Warm, at Tannersville last week.

Mr. Warm will now sue to recover the $3 which he paid on the illegal ordinance. Michael and Edward Lackey were attorneys for the village.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Aug. 5.—Although trading was generally quiet at the opening of the stock market today, advances were made in many stocks with specialties again demanding the greatest attention. International Harvester was the most prominent feature, moving up four points to 128 1/2. The announcement of the supreme court decision directing the disintegration of the Harvester Corporation was construed as a bullish factor and induced good buying from interests identified with the large holders of the property.

American Sumatra was in good demand, moving up one point to 124, and General Motors advanced 3/4 to 146 1/2. The steel issues developed strength with Steel Common ranging from 108 to 108 3/4 and Baldwin, which opened 1/4 down at 90 1/4, moved up to 90 3/4. The copper stocks were irregular. Railway stocks were quiet.

The market was extremely dull and quiet during the forenoon, except for a few specialties which were active and strong. There was good buying of International Harvester.

which was bought as a result of the announcement of the voluntary dissolution of the company. That issue sold up 1 1/2 to 138 1/2, a gain of four points. Liberty 3 1/2's again sold at par.

The market closed strong; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

Rumored Punishment for U. S. Employee Who Sent Word He Is Ill, for Pro-German Remark Made in a Broadway Saloon.

There is much agitated comment around town today about an alleged attack on a post office employee said to have been made by a man working in the Mill street brush factory, for a pro-German remark the post-office employee is alleged to have made in a saloon in the city Saturday night.

It is stated that the employee of the brush factory knock the other down with such force that the unfortunate man was ten minutes recovering consciousness. The names are withheld for the present until an investigation can be made by the postmaster, who stated this morning that he is making an inquiry.

He said that the post office employee, whose name was mentioned to him, had not come to work today and had sent word that he is ill.

"If I learn of any employee of the post office uttering pro-German sentiments, and it is proven, he will not be kept on his job," said Mr. DeWitt. He made it clear, and it is fair to presume from the well known attitude of the postmaster on the subject, that any employee in the slightest showing pro-German sentiment will receive short shift.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Aug. 5.—Although trading was generally quiet at the opening of the stock market today, advances were made in many stocks with specialties again demanding the greatest attention. International Harvester was the most prominent feature, moving up four points to 128 1/2. The announcement of the supreme court decision directing the disintegration of the Harvester Corporation was construed as a bullish factor and induced good buying from interests identified with the large holders of the property.

American Sumatra was in good demand, moving up one point to 124, and General Motors advanced 3/4 to 146 1/2. The steel issues developed strength with Steel Common ranging from 108 to 108 3/4 and Baldwin, which opened 1/4 down at 90 1/4, moved up to 90 3/4. The copper stocks were irregular. Railway stocks were quiet.

The market was extremely dull and quiet during the forenoon, except for a few specialties which were active and strong. There was good buying of International Harvester.

The market closed strong; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

Charlotte F. Kennedy of 12 East Chestnut street, this city, contributed yesterday to the Sock Song Contest, which is being conducted by the New York Sunday Sun, three prizes being awarded each week. Miss Kennedy submitted the following: I am only a girl, I cannot answer That call that thrills and awes— I am not old enough to give My life to the great cause. I am only a girl, but I can follow The never changing laws; O, I am old enough to give My work to the great cause! CHARLOTTE F. KENNEDY. 12 East Chestnut street, Kingston, N. Y. The contest editor in his review of the contributions submitted, says: "Miss Charlotte F. Kennedy, of honorable mention today, sent in a little attempt," as she wrote, "just for the fun of trying." (There you are!) She added that her age was 16, for which reason it was an additional pleasure to the Sock Song editor to find one of her "little attempts" among those to appear."	Human Development. Man has been on the earth perhaps some twenty odd thousand years, and it is only the last three thousand that we are much concerned with. To suppose that a modern Englishman must necessarily be at a higher stage of mental development than an ancient Greek is almost the same mistake as to argue that Browning must be a better poet than Wordsworth because he came later. If the soul, or the brain, of man is developing, it is not developing as fast or so steadily as all that—Gilbert Murray in the Century Magazine.	Bird Protection in Australia. In New Zealand there are now 29 acclimation societies, organized for the purpose of protecting the native wild life of the country and introducing and protecting new game birds and animals. The societies are all chartered by the government and are under government supervision. They have introduced into the colony a large number of pheasants of different varieties, California quail, Australian opossums, woodcock, rainbow trout, salmon, etc. The societies pay bounties for the destruction of hawks and other enemies of useful birds and mammals.
Best to Face Facts in Life. There are very few of us who find life all that we pictured it in our youth. Often it proves very hard for us, because we insist upon idealizing it instead of taking it as it is. We must not refuse to face facts. It would be very satisfying and beautiful, perhaps, if life could be what we want it. But the truth is that we cannot take it and make it over to our own ends. However, we can take ourselves in hand and fix ourselves to life, if we will.—Exchange.	Germany's Oldest Railroad. The oldest railroad in Germany is one of the shortest in the world. The Ludwig railway, connecting the cities of Furth and Nuremberg, is just three and three-quarters miles long, and has never been extended. It was conceived by Johannes Scharrer, a wealthy hop merchant, the Philadelphia Inquirer tells us. The plan was first published in 1832, and as King Ludwig favored its construction it was named after him. There are about 80 employees. The railroad carries about 4,000,000 passengers a year.	Drilling Hard Steel. In preparing a drill to be used on hard steel, the drill should be heated to an even heat, the scale removed and the tip of the drill be touched to a drop of quicksilver and then be quenched in water. After this treatment the drill will go through the hardest steel without trouble. A simple method of tempering small tools quickly is to heat them red hot and then thrust them into a potato, after which they should be drawn to the correct temper to remove brittleness.	Use of Peltry in History. In using peltry we walk backward in history. In what we moderns call the early history of Europe much that was lovely was done with peltry. And was further back, when artificial heat was not known, when men and women lived in damp huts or palaces, when life was crude and raw and self-sacrificing in a way that we may never know, peltry was the true means of covering the body and making one's self not only beautiful, but comfortable.

NEW DRAFT BILL IN CONGRESS NOW

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, August 5.—The new "man-power" bill, extending the draft ages from 18 to 45, was introduced in the senate and in the house this afternoon. In the senate it was introduced by Senator Chamberlain and immediately referred to the military affairs committee, of which he is chairman.

In the house it was introduced without comment by Chairman Dent of the military affairs committee. Here it will not be referred to the committee until the regular sessions of the house is resumed.

Senator Jones of Washington, suggested that the senate be called together so as to pass the measure as quickly as possible and Senator Chamberlain let it be known that he favored such a procedure. The bill, he said, probably would be reported out within a few days. The committee, he announced, would hold a meeting tomorrow morning.

Provost Marshal Crowder suggested September 5 as the date of registration under the new bill, in a letter submitted with the bill by Senator Chamberlain. In the letter, which was written to Secretary Baker, General Crowder also suggested that the house take the bill up between the 19th and 26th of this month, and the senate on the 26th.

General Crowder showed that by September 10, there will be 100,000 men left in class one and recommended a weekly registration of twenty-one year old men thereafter, in order to fill up this class. This letter also showed that officials had been considering the ages of 19 to 40, but these were rejected on Crowder's recommendation.

The total number of men between 21 and 45, affected by the new man power bill, according to estimates by Provost Marshal General Crowder and submitted with the bill by Senator Chamberlain, is placed at 10,928,973, of which 2,398,845 is the effective estimate. The net effective will total only 601,236, according to the tables.

Of the grand total 7,734,482, are married; 401,190 will be deferred classification on industrial or agricultural grounds; 200,579 other deferments; 300,989 delinquent; 170,000 enlistments; 125,270 aliens; 60,000 emergency fleet corporation; and 45,378 rejected men.

Between the ages of 18 and 20 the estimate is 3,171,671 of whom 159,185 are married; 15,858 will be deferred because of industrial and agricultural pursuits; 3,171 other deferments; 95,150 delinquents; 244,326 enlistments; 86,979 aliens; and 779,493 rejected men. The net effective were estimated at 1,670,000. Between the ages of 19 and 20, the net effective are estimated at 1,121,634 and between the ages of 32 and 40 the net effective were estimated at 448,986.

MAYOR SUGGESTS CENTRAL BODY

To Arrange For Organized Parades at Fixed Dates or When War News May Warrant—Meeting Tuesday Evening.

Kingston, N. Y., Aug. 5, 1918. To the Industrial Workers of Kingston:

Organization seems to be necessary in the accomplishment of almost everything in these times. The industrial workers have shown that they are real paraders and are not limited to the one mile class of parades. Their capacity for patriotism is equal to their ability to march because they go hand-in-hand.

I request that the employees of each factory and industrial plant in the city send several representatives to meet together in the city court room in the city hall on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. Plans can be made at that time for such a parade and demonstration of workers with the industrial committee at its head, that our boys across the waters will almost be able to hear it and say, "Hurrah for Kingston and its workers."

As for Kingstonsians, those who don't catch the spirit and show it, better move out or be discarded. A controlling committee of workers can be formed at that time to arrange for such a parade for some definite time, or to be prepared to call a parade at any time the military conditions over there may warrant it. If it be desired to make the organization more complete, a Loyal Industrial League could be formed which could do very effective work in the future campaigns and in other ways besides in connection with any parades.

Any and all factories and industrial plants are earnestly urged to be represented. All workers are invited to be present.

Respectfully,
PALMER CANFIELD, JR.

Fish Bath.

A name to which is attached a wealth of the romance and reputation of traveler and writer is that of Lady Lugard, in the British empire honors list. She was Miss Flora Shaw in former days, and of her travels there are many humorous incidents to tell. Once, for instance, on arriving at an up-country town in South Africa, the people wished immediately to do her honor. But Miss Shaw asked that she might first be allowed to have a wash. She had to wait a little time before water was brought to her, and then the fish that she was to have for dinner had already been cooked in it!

INJURY DONE BY INJECTIONS

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Claim is occasionally made, in circular matter issued by financially interested persons and in other ways, of the efficacy in insect and disease control of substances or compounds inserted into holes bored into trees or placed under the bark. Wonderful results have been claimed in some instances from such treatments, and some orchardists and numerous owners of a few yard trees have been induced to have their trees "inoculated."

The purpose of this paragraph is to advise fruit growers and others that such treatments are entirely without merit in controlling insects and diseases and are often decidedly injurious to the trees treated. The illustration shows the injury to trees resulting from placing under the bark small quantities of a compound containing sodium cyanide, common salt, and certain other ingredients.

RIGHT PLAN FOR MARKETING

Teamwork between the farmer and his agent, the commission merchant, will clear up many a cloud of misunderstanding that frequently results in needless losses for which the middleman is held responsible. While many striking cases have proven that too often there have been betrayals of trust on the part of city dealers to whom farm products have been consigned, it is doubtful if it could be demonstrated that all the shortcomings of the commission business as now conducted are the fault of the merchant. Marketing farm products through the commission house is a partnership affair, and no partnership can be a complete success unless each partner does his best and is willing to make the best advantage for the other to work to best advantage.

Too often the commission man is used as a last resort and products undesirable on the home market, either because of their low grade or because of a weak market, are dumped on the city market.

For those who contemplate the use of commission men as marketing agents the following suggestions are offered:

1. Know your agent. Select one who has a reputation backed by experience, an advantageous location and competent help. A personal visit will help the farmer in deciding these points.

2. Know your market. From your carefully selected agent learn the needs of the market, most desirable varieties to raise, proper containers in which to pack and ship, style of pack most desired, the use of labels or brands, proper amounts and time of shipment, and local preferences.

3. Make regular shipments. Keep your city agent regularly supplied with what his trade will take, thereby helping him to stabilize the business in which you are both concerned.

4. Keep each other informed. Successful shippers make frequent use of the telephone or long-distance telephone to keep agents posted as to changes in shipments. The agent should also keep the shipper informed as to any changes in requirements of the market.

5. Avoid frequent changes in agents. While it may be wise under certain conditions to check one agent by the sales of another, the most successful consigner is the one who selects an agent with great care and then sticks to him, co-operating in every possible way and carefully scrutinizing all settlements. The honest agent is glad to do his part in such teamwork and welcomes the most exacting examination of his methods.

Hard to Judge Character.

I have often observed that a thorough scoundrel is often one of the most agreeable of men, and that the most companionable people are frequently the most destitute of dignity of character.—George Sand.

ESOPUS.

Esopus, August 5.—Miss Harriett Preer of this village, and Miss Holmes of Kingston, recently made a tour of the New England states, before leaving home the ladies carefully planned for each day of their stay and this added greatly to their enjoyment, as they did not have to waste any time wondering where they would go, or what they would do any particular day. One of the most enjoyable features of the journey was a trolley ride of one hundred and nine miles along the coast of Maine and they were also delighted with views among the Berkshire Hills. Yesterday Miss Preer, with her sister, Miss Grace, started on a camping trip to the Catskills where they will probably remain for about a month.

Mrs. Amy Sheeley has received a postal from her nephew, Private Harlowe McLean. He writes that he was mustered in on Monday, inoculated for typhoid on Tuesday, and consequently was not feeling very well on Wednesday, but he is delighted, so far with his experiences and thinks it great to be a soldier. Rev. J. J. Lyons and Mrs. Alex Smith, a cousin, have also received cards from him. He is stationed at Camp Dix, Wrightstown, N. J.

Mrs. Schuyler Ougheltree of Port Ewen, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Beaver, on Friday and Saturday last.

Charles C. Beaver and James Lowe went to Napanoch on Tuesday last to attend the Farm Bureau rally. They greatly enjoyed the day notwithstanding the unpleasant weather.

On Thursday last Mrs. Charles Thompson of West Esopus, visited her daughter, Miss Emily, in Kingston. The latter is a nurse in the Kingston City Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Elmendorf of Grantwood, N. J., with their two daughters, Hazel and Catherine, motored to Esopus on Saturday, July 27th, to visit Mrs. Elmendorf's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mowell. From there they went to Kingston to the home of Mr. Elmendorf's parents, returning to Esopus on Sunday afternoon they called on Mr. and Mrs. George Mowell and Mr. and Mrs. James Tweedy, then continued their journey to Grantwood Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Van Benschooten, of West Park, were welcome callers at Mrs. Charles Martin's on Wednesday last.

Mrs. Alex Smith motored to Newburgh on Saturday and on the return trip brought Mrs. Smith's brother, Leo Sheeley with them. Mr. Sheeley's family have been guests of Mrs. Smith for the past week and yesterday being the birthday of Mr. Sheeley the event was celebrated at the home of Mrs. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. William McMurdy and family of Highland, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. William Smith.

Robert Ackerdin of New York city is a guest of his sister, Mrs. Harrison Wright. Mr. Ackerdin has enlisted in the U. S. Navy and is awaiting his call to service.

John L. Schultz attended the Sunday school of the Christian Home for Children, at West Esopus, yesterday morning. Mr. Schultz was much pleased with his visit. Nearly a hundred children were seated on the lawn of the home and a victoria was used to accompany them in singing and Mr. Schultz says they certainly can sing. Rev. Mr. Nelson is superintendent of the home and school and Mrs. Nelson is his able assistant.

By a trick of memory the name of Miss Lowe, Red Cross nurse of Port Ewen, who is now in France, was written Miss Elsie instead of Miss Edith as it should have been.

Protein and Hog Feed.

Washington, D. C., August 5.—Feed that is rich in protein, such as shorts, middlings, tankage and oil meal, so essential to the proper development of hogs, are hard to get and high in price. The United States department of agriculture is urging that hog growers provide substitutes for these feeds in the form of home-grown crops that are known to be rich in protein, and are advising the use of fish meal where it is obtainable. Alfalfa hay, soy beans, sowpans, and oats are suggested as good substitute feeds. In addition to these peanuts, cottonseed meal, and velvet beans are available to hog growers in the southern states.

Successful Picnic at Lomontville.

The picnic held on the school house grounds at Lomontville on Wednesday evening was exceptionally well attended. The affair was a success, both socially and financially, as $80 was realized.

Art Note.

There appears to be a gang of sculptors making busts of near-statesmen in Washington. Sculpting near-statesmen is making a bust of sculpture. Such statuary ought to be deferred until a man shall have been dead ten years and then very little of it will need to be made.—Houston Post.

TWELVE STARS FOR DENNING

Patriotic Gatherings Bear Witness to Loyalty of People of One of Ulster County's Mountain Towns.

On Sunday afternoon, July 28th, the service flag of the town of Denning, District 1, was flung to the breeze at Dewittville. In honor of this occasion the Hon. Harrington Putnam of Brooklyn, N. Y., addressed a large gathering. The Rev. William H. Hull of Grahamsville offered a dedicatory prayer and "The Star Spangled Banner" was rendered on the Victrola.

It was a proud hour for this patriotic community when the flag was raised, its twelve stars representing the following loyal sons of this district who are with the colors, several already in France:

Daniel Sagendorf.

Otis Bailey.

DeWitt Curtis.

Raymond Wells.

Virgil Murray.

Percy Bunton.

James O'Dell.

William Currey.

Grant Joslyn.

Bruce Curtis.

Oscar Hotelling.

Benjamin Conklin.

Judge Putnam has volunteered to have an honor roll containing these names printed and placed in the school, post offices, churches and town clerk's office of Denning.

Such a roll of honor all citizens may point to with pride and it will be a constant reminder of what our boys are doing for their country and for us, and an inspiration to us all to do our part in every patriotic effort here at home.

The names given below are of those men and women of the district who contributed towards the purchase of the flag. Many others would gladly have given had opportunity been offered:

The amount from cash sales or pledges for purchase of war savings stamps has now risen to $7,865.

This, together with $2,940 from District 2, gives the grand total from Denning of $10,805. The first town of the county or state, we are told, that went over the top!

The Home Defense Committee of this district, consisting of Mrs. George W. Ertz, Mrs. Andrew George and Mrs. Fred Yale, assisted by the chairman, Mrs. Dimock, of Peekskill, and Miss Murray of Claryville, is now planning a community meeting and patriotic demonstration to be held at Claryville, Friday evening, August 9. At that time Miss Lillian M. Stuart, the popular and successful agent of food conservation for Ulster county, will give an interesting talk on war foods, illustrated with lantern slides. A speaker is expected to deliver a patriotic address and the chairman will present congratulations to the district and announce plans for a gathering under the auspices of the National Child Welfare Campaign. There will be singing of good old war songs. A large attendance is expected.

On Saturday morning, August 10, Miss Stuart will conduct a canning demonstration which will be full of interest and profit to all loyal housekeepers.

AMERICANS TOOK BRILLIANT PART

American troops have had a brilliant share in throwing the Germans back from the Marne to the Aisne-Vesle line. When the great Allied counter offensive opened, the Americans were employed against the western flank of the German salient, between Soissons and Chateau Thierry. In the second phase of the fighting the Americans took up positions north of the Marne. Finally, however, men from General Pershing's army took over a large portion of the center, being brigaded with French veterans. It was the Americans on the center who drove forward more than six miles late Friday and Saturday, capturing the great German base at Fismes on the Rheims-Soissons railway and the Vesle river.

COBLESKILL SCHOOL

Is Making Plans For Large Number of Students.

The New York State School of Agriculture at Cobleskill is making plans for a large increase in registration this fall. Ten counties in New York state are now represented by students at the school, which is beginning its third year of operation. The school is well located to serve all of Eastern New York state, Cobleskill being 45 miles from Albany on the main line of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad, running from Montreal to Binghamton.

The school is exceptionally well equipped in every way to render service to the boys and girls of New York state. It offers a two year course in agriculture with an opportunity to specialize and a two year course in domestic science. The work is very practical; the school farm and herd of purebred livestock being used for instruction purposes. Students who have completed 8th grade work and who are less than 16 years of age and who can furnish evidence of good character are admitted.

The world realizes to a greater degree than ever before the value of training. Real education consists of training in those things which can be made of immediate service to self and to country. In no walk of life does adequate training mean more than in agriculture and home making.

With this in mind the state of New York established the school at Cobleskill in order that its citizens might send their children without charge for training in matters of vital importance to the welfare of the state.

Full information may be obtained by writing to H. B. Knapp, Director, Cobleskill, N. Y.

MOVING DAY THOUGHTS.

At last we are permanently located. Our new address is No. 6 West Fifty-seventh Street. We have four floors in a modern office building. The telephone number is the same here as at 220,—Circle 4400.

When the old-fashioned German mother is told the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth; when she is told that America has set its heart and soul against mob-law, and that men and women with German names cannot be mistreated by an American citizen, acting of his own accord,—well the German mother is going to continue her hard thinking. She is doing some hard thinking now. She will soon reach that stage in her thoughts where she will realize that the Hohenzollerns are fighting to save themselves and not the people of Germany.

Hoover is no longer ours exclusively. He belongs to all of that part of the world which still retains confidence in the old-fashioned ideals of live and let live.

Our sugar ration has been cut one pound per month per person. We are now asked to confine our use of sugar to two pounds per month per person instead of three. And all that the world may be saved for the people who want to live decently. Yet there are some grown-up persons in this country contemptible enough to slip a waiter a dime in order to get an extra portion of sugar to satisfy selfish appetites. The chief offenders are men and a type of women that have never been known to give up anything that stood between them and self-satisfaction.

We heard a well dressed man making an awful pother the other night in a public eating place. What about? A little girl asked him to buy a War Savings Stamp. He said in effect that he was being held up. Poor fish! He probably had up to that time been a generous buyer and giver. He was painfully annoyed. He let his feelings out in the washroom so that his neighbors might know how much he had done. Poor fish! What would he say if the cooties made an attack on him? The least we can do is to be respectful to the men and women who are performing unpleasant tasks for us. This poor fish might have said, for instance: "My dear, I am sorry, but I have gone the limit today," or "I'm broke," or "tomorrow." The little girl would have thanked him and understood.

There is no whining over there when some officer calls out in the middle of the night: "Jones, take your company and don't come back until you have cleared the way for the army to move into the heart of the enemy."

OUR LETTER BOX

Replies to food questions, particularly about sugar, from readers of the Bulletin answered by experts of the U. S. Food Administration.

J. J. E. (Elmira).—Yes, there is a punishment for householders who hoard sugar or other foods. The Food Control act provides for fines of not more than $5,000, and imprisonment for hoarding by manufacturers, dealers or householders.

L. N. (Lake Placid).—The English method of pulping fruits, which requires no sugar, is as follows: Place fruit over a gentle heat until sufficient moisture comes out to prevent burning, then increase heat until the fruit boils. Boil one hour, stirring constantly, and can in sterilized jars. In the case of fruits which have a low moisture content, such as apples, a little water should be added to prevent burning.

EDITH L. (Monticello).—Under present ration, each person is limited to three pounds of sugar per month, and in many patriotic households the monthly consumption per person has been reduced considerably below this amount. Beginning Aug. 1, the ration will be reduced to two pounds per month per person.

"ANXIOUS" (Rensselaer).—No, there is no danger of a sugar famine, but there is an actual shortage compared with pre-war days, when Americans used eighty pounds per capita per year. If our people will confine themselves to the quantities allowed under the Food Administration's new rulings there will be sufficient sugar for our needs.

E. R. V. (Kirkwood).—Yes, you should use sugar substitutes wherever possible. The substitutes include honey, corn syrup, maple sugar, maple syrup, sorghum, fruit, fruit juices, etc.

T. M. A. (Chenango).—Apply to the deputy Food Administrator in your county for sugar for home canning. Usually certificates must be signed by persons who wish sugar for canning purposes. These certificates are presented to the dealers who sell the sugar, and they are then forwarded to the Federal Food Administrator who keeps check on canning requisitions.

J. J. E. (Colesville).—All public eating places are limited as to sugar. They may purchase not more than three pounds for every ninety meals served up to Aug. 1 and two pounds for every ninety meals on and after that date.

Those Dear Girls.

Nell—"I understand May Cutting remarked that I looked so much like Miss Hoamley-Ritch. Isn't that awful?" Belle—"Yes, she's always knocking Miss Hoamley-Ritch, because she's jealous of her."

"FARMERETTES" ARE MAKING GOOD

Too Much Credit Cannot Be Given Girls Who Are Helping Empire State Go "Over the Top" in War Food Drive.

The farmerette in New York State has demonstrated her value, and next year, it is predicted, there will be demands from the farm owners for thousands of them as against hundreds this year. Reports from all parts of the state, where the experiment of using women and girls to make up for the depleted manpower on the farms has been tried, agree that the farmerette is a splendid success.

The work which they have done and are doing shows that they are capable of performing all except the very heaviest farm labor, and some of them can even do this satisfactorily. Driving a tractor, plowing, harrowing and pitching hay—these are among the more strenuous things which some of the farmerettes have accomplished successfully. The large majority of them, of course, have been employed in lighter work, such as cherry and berry picking, cultivating and gathering vegetables and the myriad of farming chores which do not require so much muscle and brawn.

Make Record as Cherry Pickers. A camp of twenty farmerettes on the farm of Henry Shaffer at North Germantown and a camp of nine girls on the farm of Sanford Hoover at Germantown made a record for fast cherry picking. The North Germantown camp was under the supervision of Miss Mera Crossman of Dolgeville, N. Y., a graduate of the Sargent School, and well fitted for the work. The ages of the farmerettes in this camp ranged from fifteen to forty years and they included college girls and factory workers of several nationalities, yet they all worked together in harmony.

A unit at Elmira, composed of girls from Elmira College, has done splendid work. "One of the girls has been driving a tractor for about six weeks, plowing, harrowing, etc. At Ithaca a unit of young women from Cornell University has been doing excellent work during the berry picking season. At Apalachin, in Tioga county, a unit of girls has run its own camp without supervisor or cook. The girls named their camp "No Man's Land."

Girls Enjoy the Work. At Conklin, in Broome county, is another unit which has been doing good work, and on the farm of Edgar Emple, at Sharon Springs, twenty girls have been busily engaged picking fruit. Another unit of fifty girls is at work in Fulton county.

Phosphate Industry of Tunis. Since the discovery of phosphate deposits in Tunis in 1880 the industry has developed to such an extent that two of the largest phosphate mines in the world are now producing near the Algerian frontier.

"THE STORE FOR WAR-TIME SAVINGS"

POULTRY

Poultry raisers should be on the lookout for lice and mites, for they get busier than ever with the coming of warm weather. Unless they are controlled at this season they will have a marked effect on the number of eggs produced by laying hens, and the number of chicks raised. Poultry houses should be thoroughly cleaned, whitewashed, or sprayed with kerosene or kerosene emulsion at this season. The hens should also be provided with a good dust box, and insect powder should be dusted among their feathers.

Mites usually stay in the cracks of the henhouses and under the roosts in the daytime, where they lay their eggs. At night when the fowls go to roost the mites come out of their hiding places, attach themselves to the fowls, and feed by sucking blood from the birds. To get rid of them the houses should be cleaned and sprayed thoroughly, including the nests, the dropping boards, and roosts. The poultry house that is kept clean and has plenty of sunlight and ventilation is usually free from mites. Immediately after cleaning the house should be whitewashed or sprayed. An effective whitewash is made by slaking one-half peck of lime in 20 gallons of water. Add one pound of salt, previously dissolved, and two quarts of crude carbolic acid, or one gallon of stock dip, and apply the mixture with a spray pump or brush. Kerosene, crude oil, or some good preservative manufactured from coal tar, sprayed about the interior of the house, especially in the cracks and crevices, is an effective means of killing mites. If kerosene is used it is necessary to continue to spray every 10 days or two weeks.

Dusting Louse-Infested Fowl.

used to destroy lice is a mixture of equal parts of blue ointment with vaseline or lard. Mix these ingredients thoroughly and apply a small portion (about the size of a pea) to the top of the head, under the wings, and around the vent.

Note—Blue ointment should not be used on hatching hens and small chicks.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Here are some safe figures about what can be expected of a back-yard flock. Each hen in her pullet year should produce ten dozen eggs. The average size of the back-yard flock should be at least ten hens. Thus each flock would produce in a year 100 dozen of eggs, which, at the conservative value of 25 cents a dozen, would be worth $25. But the 100 dozen is more important than the $25.

Old-Fashioned Idea.

The old-fashioned idea that round eggs would hatch pullets, and long or pointed eggs cockerels, is entirely without foundation.

Use Hens for Breeders.

Don't breed from pullets at all if you can use hens instead.

MARKSON IN PATROL FIGHT

James Connelly, president of The Freeman Social Club, has received the following letter from David Markson, a club member, now in the thick of fighting France:

Dear Jim:—Received a few copies of The Freeman the other day. They certainly were very newsworthy, much of it relating to the fellows in service. I have met many of the fellows from home and quite often they have asked me if I had any Freeman with me but until the other day I had no answer in the negative. After reading the ones which I received I handed them over to Joe Zeeh and some other Kingston fellows in the Headquarters Co., and they in turn will give them to their friends.

I am now in a rest camp arriving here after spending a few days up in the front line trenches. I was chiefly engaged in patrol work and on all occasions worked side by side with the French. In one of these trips we had proceeded far across "No Man's Land" and I might say not far from the enemy's line, when we encountered a Hun ambush patrol. It was not long before they retreated leaving behind three dead and while doing so many shrieks and groans could be heard, this being caused by our machine gun fire. We all returned without a casualty and on every patrol we undertook gained much information. It sure is some life.

All the "Y" and K. of C. huts nearby have been arranged for a big time tomorrow.

I certainly would like to see "Helmie" in a uniform. Guess they will have to wear the trenches if he comes over here.

Give my regards to Pete, Mr. Hoffman and all the fellows and also Miss Silverman.

Your friend
DAVE MARKSON.

Sergeant Hamilton Killed.

Word has been received in Kingston of the death in action of Sergeant James J. Hamilton, of Co. H, 165th Regiment (the old 68th), "Somewhere in France." Sergeant Hamilton will be remembered as one of the boys of the 71st Regiment, who were on duty guarding the Wilbur bridge. His home address was New York city. While in Kingston Sergeant Hamilton made a number of friends here.

FARM BOYS' CHANCE.

One From Each County Will Be Sent to State Fair.

Plans have been made for a farm boys' camp to be held at Syracuse state fair grounds during state fair week, September 9-14.

The ruling of the state fair commission for the camp is as follows: A boys' camp will be organized for state fair week, consisting of one farm reared boy from each county of the state between the ages of 14 and 18, inclusive.

The boys from Ulster county will be chosen at the Ulster county fair, Tuesday, August 29, in the afternoon at 3 o'clock. Boys entering the contest will be admitted to the fair free.

The boys will be examined of their knowledge of (a) livestock, (b) farm crops, (c) vegetables, (d) fruits, etc.

At the conclusion of the contest one boy will be chosen to attend the state fair. The traveling expenses and living expenses incident to the trip to the state fair will be met by the state fair commission.

Every farm reared boy who can qualify should enter this contest. The opportunity to attend the state fair should be taken advantage of. Any farm reared boy of Ulster county who presents himself to the judges at the Ulster county fair grounds, Ellenville, N. Y., before 3 o'clock of Tuesday, August 29, will be admitted. But if you are interested you are requested to send your name at once to H. L. Smith, assistant secretary Ulster county fair, Ellenville, N. Y.

GUS HILL'S MINSTRELS.

Will be at the Opera House Tomorrow Night.

Every one locally is looking forward to the heralded performance at the Kingston opera house tomorrow night of the black face organization, Gus Hill's big minstrel. Reports from everywhere indicate that Manager Hill has transcended all ambitions for the adequate revival of this scintillant form of stage diversion in his aggregation. Many of the biggest names identified with burnt cork mimeries, whistles, impersonations, evolutions, songs, dances and spectacles are to be found in the Hill roster. The street parade of the Hill entertainers is said to be worth while, and the free concert before the show an attraction that no one should miss.

UNDERNEATH THE CITY HALL DOME

Superintendent Harrison of the water department had a force of men busy on Sunday making permanent repairs to the water main where it crosses the Sawkill creek. During the winter temporary repairs had been made with the aid of a diver. During the day the city was supplied with water on the low pressure.

The heavy rain storm of Sunday night brought welcome relief to the many gardens about the city.

Superintendent Harrison when seen this morning said that there was plenty of water in the city reservoirs.

The public drinking fountains about the city are being painted a bright green by the board of public works. The fountains still remain shut off until there is a change for the better in the glanders situation in Kingston.

Sunday morning at 2:14 o'clock a false alarm of fire was turned in from Box 36.

The usual Saturday night crop of drunks is a missing feature from the usual Monday morning lineup in police court these days. Whether it is because the "spirits" are not as strong as they used to be or for some other reason is not known.

Officer James Lawrence is enjoying his vacation this week. He expects to spend at least a part of it in the big city.

Indications now point to the fact that there will be no further oiling of the city streets this summer as the war department has shut down on the shipments of road oil. This season but a few streets were oiled. The fact that the usual number of streets were not oiled is not the fault of the board of public works as that body expected to have the same number of streets oiled as in past seasons and would have done so if they could have gotten the oil.

VICTORY MENUS.

These menus, planned to conserve time, labor and money, to save the foods that are scarce and use those of which there is an abundance, are Victory Menus in more senses than one. They are prepared by the Department of Home Economics of the State College of Agriculture and endorsed by the New York State Food Commission.

Monday.
Breakfast—Stewed apricots. Hominy grits. Top milk. Muffins. Creamed eggs. Coffee.
Lunch or Supper—Stuffed potatoes with "cheese." Lettuce and tomato salad. Wheatless bread. Butter.
Dinner—Chicken souffle. Brown sauce. Boiled potatoes. Swiss chard. *Grape sponge. Whipped cream.

Milk for the children to drink at each meal.

Indications are that sugar will be increasingly scarce, because the ships which bring it from a distance to this country are needed for more essential things; because some of our neighboring countries have a smaller yield than usual this year as well as our own crop falling below the expected estimate. And lastly because the submarines off the Atlantic coasts sunk a lot of sugar. What sugar there is must be drawn upon for the preservation of the fruits. Therefore, we must necessarily cut down our use of sugar very drastically, using other sweets and fewer sweet dishes.

Chicken Souffle.
2 cups scalded milk, 1-3 cup butter, 1/4 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 cup stale soft bread crumbs. 2 cups cold cooked chicken, finely chopped; yolks 3 eggs, well beaten, 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley, white 3 eggs, beaten stiff.
Make a sauce of the first five ingredients, add the bread crumbs, and cook 2 minutes. Remove from the fire, add the chicken, yolks of eggs, and parsley then fold in the whites. Turn in a buttered pudding dish, and bake 35 minutes in a slow oven. Veal may be used in place of chicken.

Grape Sponge.
Soak 2 tablespoons gelatin in 1 pint sweetened grape juice 10 minutes, then heat in a double boiler until the gelatin has dissolved. Add the juice of 1 lemon. Strain into a bowl, allow it to cool, stirring occasionally. When mixture begins to thicken, add the whites of 2 eggs, that have been beaten to a stiff froth. Turn into a mold, which has first been dipped in cold water and chill. Remove from the mold and serve plain or with a custard sauce made from the yolks, or with whipped cream.

Recipes for any of the dishes in these menus which cannot be found in cook books, may be had by writing to the Department of Home Economics, State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.

NEW DRAFT BILL IN CONGRESS NOW

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, August 5.—The new "man-power" bill, extending the draft ages from 18 to 45, was introduced in the senate and in the house this afternoon. In the senate it was introduced by Senator Chamberlain and immediately referred to the military affairs committee, of which he is chairman.

In the house it was introduced without comment by Chairman Dent of the military affairs committee. Here it will not be referred to the committee until the regular sessions of the house is resumed.

Senator Jones of Washington suggested that the senate be called together so as to pass the measure as quickly as possible and Senator Chamberlain let it be known that he favored such a procedure. The bill, he said, probably would be reported out within a few days. The committee, he announced, would hold a meeting tomorrow morning.

Provost Marshal Crowder suggested September 5 as the date of registration under the new bill, in a letter submitted with the bill by Senator Chamberlain. In the letter, which was written to Secretary Baker, General Crowder also suggested that the house take the bill up between the 19th and 26th of this month, and the senate on the 26th.

General Crowder showed that, by September 10, there will be only 160,000 men left in class one and recommended a weekly registration of twenty-one year old men thereafter, in order to fill up this class.

This letter also showed that officials had been considering the ages of 19 to 40, but these were rejected on Crowder's recommendation.

The total number of men between 31 and 45, affected by the new man power bill, according to estimates by Provost Marshal General Crowder and submitted with the bill by Senator Chamberlain, is placed at 10,928,973, of which 2,398,845 is the effective estimate. The net effectives will total only 601,259, according to the tables.

Of the grand total 7,731,432, are married; 401,190 will be deferred classification on industrial or agricultural grounds; 200,573 other deferments; 300,959 delinquent; 170,000 enlistments; 125,270 aliens; 60,000 emergency fleet corporation; and 425,378 rejections.

Between the ages of 18 and 20 the estimate is 3,771,671 of whom 158,185 are married; 15,858 will be deferred because of industrial and agricultural pursuits; 3,771 other deferments; 55,150 delinquents; 244,326 enlistments; 86,979 aliens; and 770,403 rejections. The net effectives were estimated at 1,670,000. Between the ages of 19 and 20, the net effectives are estimated at 1,121,634 and between the ages of 21 and 40 the net effectives were estimated at 448,986.

MAYOR SUGGESTS CENTRAL BODY

To Arrange For Organized Parades at Fixed Dates or When War News May Warrant—Meeting Tuesday Evening.

Kingston, N. Y., Aug. 5, 1918. To the Industrial Workers of Kingston:

Organization seems to be necessary in the accomplishment of almost everything in these times. The industrial workers have shown that they are real paraders and are not limited to the one mile class of parades.

Their capacity for patriotism is equal to their ability to march because they go hand-in-hand.

I request that the employees of each factory and industrial plant in the city send several representatives to meet together in the city court room in the city hall on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. Plans can be made at that time for such a parade and demonstration of workers with the industrial committee at its head, that our boys across the waters will most be able to hear it and say, "Hurrah for Kingston and its workers."

As for Kingstonians, those who don't catch the spirit and show it, better move out or be disowned.

A controlling committee of workers can be formed at that time to arrange for such a parade for some definite time, or to be prepared to call a parade at any time the military conditions over there may warrant it.

If it be desired to make the organization more complete, a Loyal Industrial League could be formed which could do very effective work in the future campaigns and in other ways besides in connection with parades.

Any and all factories and industrial plants are earnestly urged to be represented. All workers are invited to be present.

Respectfully,
PALMER CAMPBELL, JR.

French Honor Kenyon.

By Telegram to The Freeman

Fish Bath.

A name to which is attached a wealth of the romance and reputation of traveler and writer is that of Lady Luard, in the British empire honors list. She was Miss Flora Shaw in former days, and of her travels there are many humorous incidents to tell. Once, for instance, on arriving at an up-country town in South Africa, the people wished immediately to do her honor. But Miss Shaw asked that she might first be allowed to have a wash. She had to wait a little time before water was brought to her, and then the fish that she was to have for dinner had already been cooked in it!

Seemed Personal.

Mrs. Brown weighs over 250. Not long ago she went into a store to purchase a waist. After telling the sales girl what she wanted she saw her walk over to a speaking tube. To Mrs. Brown's chagrin this is what she heard: "Say, Maizie, send down one jumbo!"—Judge.

ORCHARD TOPICS

Claim is occasionally made, in circular matter issued by financially interested persons and in other ways, of the efficacy in insect and disease control of substances or compounds inserted into holes bored into trees or placed under the bark. Wonderful results have been claimed in some instances from such treatments, and some orchardists and numerous owners of a few yard trees have been induced to have their trees "inoculated."

The purpose of this paragraph is to advise fruit growers and others that such treatments are entirely without merit in controlling insects and diseases and are often decidedly injurious to the trees treated. The illustration shows the injury to trees resulting from placing under the bark small quantities of a compound containing sodium cyanid, common salt, and certain other ingredients.

Injection Under Bark of Cyanid Mixture.

Right Plan for Marketing

Teamwork between the farmer and his agent, the commission merchant, will clear up many a cloud of misunderstanding that frequently results in needless losses for which the middleman is held responsible.

While many striking cases have proven that too often there have been betrayals of trust on the part of city dealers to whom farm products have been consigned, it is doubtful if it could be demonstrated that all the shortcomings of the commission business as now conducted are the fault of the merchant. Marketing farm products through the commission house is a partnership affair, and no partnership can be a complete success unless each partner does his best and is willing to make it possible for the other to work to best advantage.

Too often the commission man is used as a last resort and products undesirable on the home market, either because of their low grade or because of a weak market, are dumped on the city market.

For those who contemplate the use of commission men as marketing agents the following suggestions are offered:

1. Know your agent. Select one who has a reputation backed by experience, an advantageous location and competent help. A personal visit will help the farmer in deciding these points.

2. Know your market. From your carefully selected agent learn the needs of the market, most desirable varieties to raise, proper containers in which to pack and ship, style of pack most desired, the use of labels or brands, proper amounts and time of shipment, and local preferences.

3. Make regular shipments. Keep your city agent regularly supplied with what his trade will take, thereby helping him to stabilize the business in which you are both concerned.

4. Keep each other informed. Successful shippers make frequent use of the telephone or long-distance telephone to keep agents posted as to changes in shipments. The agent should also keep the shipper informed as to any changes in requirements of the market.

5. Avoid frequent changes in agents. While it may be wise under certain conditions to check one agent by the sales of another, the most successful consignee is the one who selects an agent with great care and then sticks to him, co-operating in every possible way and carefully scrutinizing all settlements. The honest agent is glad to do his part in such teamwork and welcomes the most exacting examination of his methods.

Hard to Judge Character.

I have often observed that a thorough secondhand is often one of the most agreeable of men, and that the most companionable people are frequently the most destitute of dignity of character.—George Sand.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hughes More, widow of the late Wilson Page More, died Saturday, aged 89 years at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank A. Kline, No. 78 Highland avenue. Besides Mrs. Kline she leaves two daughters, Mrs. George Hadley of this city, and Mrs. George C. Sargent, of San Francisco, Cal., and one son, Fred More, of Hobart, N. Y. The funeral will be held Tuesday from the home of Mrs. Frank A. Kline, No. 78 Highland avenue, at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be in Montrose cemetery at the convenience of the family.

The funeral of Miss Loretta Allen, who died August 1, aged 21 years, was held Sunday afternoon from her late home at Spillway, N. Y. The services were conducted by the Rev. M. Wilsey, pastor of the Ashokan M. E. Church. The solos, "Thy Will be Done," "Beaute Land on High" and "Nearer My God to Thee," were effectively rendered by Mrs. J. V. Leary. Miss Allen was of a very pleasing disposition and had a host of friends who mourn her loss. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Allen, four sisters and one brother. The remains were interred in an iron vault in the Woodstock cemetery. The following were the bearers: Corp. John Crozier, Serg. Louie Markle, Robert Wolven, Graunville Busio, Virgil Markle, Allen Scribner, Charles Gobel and Thomas Carroll. There were many beautiful floral offerings.

Mary Foyle, widow of Richard Bailey, a well known U. S. D. engineer, died after a short illness this morning at her home, No. 54 Second avenue. Mrs. Bailey had been a resident of this city for forty-seven years, and was held in high esteem by all who knew her as she was a kind friend and neighbor. She was always willing and ready to lend a hand in case of illness among her friends and neighbors, and was one of the best known residents in that section of the city. Her husband was one of the best known engineers in this section of the state and ran the first train up the Ulster & Delaware Railroad when it was built. The death of Mrs. Bailey came as a sudden shock to her host of friends to whom she was endeared by her Christian character and her many acts of kindness to those who were in need of aid. She is survived by two sons, Richard W. Bailey of this city, and John C. Bailey of Schenectady, and five daughters, Mrs. Frank Tongue and Mrs. George Schanz of this city, Mrs. A. E. Pre of Chicago, Mrs. William Snyder of Harrisburg, Pa., and Mrs. John A. Burger of Toledo, Ohio, and also two grandchildren who Mrs. Bailey brought up, taking them when they were small children. Richard H. Morsehead, now in the service of our country. The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed and will be announced later.

ESOPUS.

Esopus, August 5.—Miss Harriett Freer of this village, and Miss Holmes of Kingston, recently made a tour of the New England states. Before leaving home the ladies carefully planned for each day of their stay and this added greatly to their enjoyment, as they did not have to waste any time wondering where they would go, or what they would do any particular day. One of the most enjoyable features of the journey was a roller ride of one hundred and nine miles along the coast of Maine and they were also delighted with views among the Berkshire Hills. Yesterday Miss Freer, with her sister, Miss Grace, started on a camping trip to the Catskills where they will probably remain for about a month.

Mrs. Amy Sheeley has received a postal from her nephew, Private Harlowe McLean. He writes that he was mustered in on Monday, inoculated for typhoid on Tuesday, and consequently was not feeling very well on Wednesday, but he is delighted, so far with his experiences and thinks it great to be a soldier. Rev. J. J. Lyons and Mrs. Alex Smith, a cousin, have also received cards from him. He is stationed at Camp Dix, Wrightstown, N. J.

Mrs. Schuyler Ougheltree of Port Ewen, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Beaver, on Friday and Saturday last.

Charles C. Beaver and James Lowe went to Napanoch on Tuesday last to attend the Farm Bureau rally. They greatly enjoyed the day notwithstanding the unpleasant weather.

On Thursday last Mrs. Charles Thompson of West Esopus, visited her daughter, Miss Emily, in Kingston. The latter is a nurse in the Kingston City Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Elmendorf of Grantwood, N. J., with their two daughters, Hazel and Catherine, motored to Esopus on Saturday, July 27th, to visit Mrs. Elmendorf's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mowell. From there they went to Kingston to the home of Mr. Elmendorf's parents, returning to Esopus on Sunday afternoon they called on Mr. and Mrs. George Mowell and Mr. and Mrs. James Tweedy, then continued their journey to Grantwood Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Van Benschoten, of West Park, were welcome callers at Mrs. Charles Martin's on Wednesday last.

Mrs. Alex Smith motored to Newburgh on Saturday and on the return trip brought Mrs. Smith's brother, Leo Sheeley with them. Mr. Sheeley's family have been guests of Mrs. Smith for the past week and yesterday being the birthday of Mr. Sheeley (the event was celebrated at the home of Mrs. Smith).

Mr. and Mrs. William McMurdy and family of Highland, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. William Smith.

Robert Ackers of New York city is a guest of his sister, Mrs. Harrison Wright. Mr. Ackers has enlisted in the U. S. Navy and is awaiting his call to service.

John L. Schultz attended the Sunday school of the Christian Home for Children, at West Esopus, yesterday morning. Mr. Schultz was much pleased with his visit. Nearly a hundred children were seated on the lawn of the home and a victrola was used to accompany them in singing.

Mr. Schultz says they certainly can sing. Rev. Mr. Nelson is superintendent of the home and school and Mrs. Nelson is his able assistant.

By a trick of memory the name of Miss Lowe, Red Cross nurse of Port Ewen, who is now in France, was written Miss Elsie instead of Miss Mary as it should have been.

Miss Mae O'Sullivan, a graduate of the Benedictine Sanitarium, employed at the Municipal Hospital, Trenton, N. J., is visiting friends in town. Miss O'Sullivan has joined the army nursing corps and expects to be called to service about September first.

"TAKE IT FROM ME BOY, SOME BAKE"

So Said They All Sunday at the Annual Outing of The Freeman Social Club Held at Coddington's Dock—It Was a Great Day.

War bread and steamed clams makes a happy combination as the members of The Freeman Social Club ascertained on Sunday at the annual outing and clambake of the club held that day at Coddington's Dock and at the end of a perfect day they climbed back into automobiles and were whirled to the city, happy though tired.
The trip to Coddington's Dock and return was made by automobile, the members of the club meeting at the Freeman office at 8 o'clock that morning ready for an enjoyable day. That is, all the members, with the exception of genial George W. Styles of the job department made the trip by automobile. Mr. Styles drove his own "Yellow Shiver" and arrived at the festive board some two hours later when he sang "The Long Long Trail" with much feeling and unction and then placed three ham sandwiches under his belt along with a bottle of lemon pop, when he announced that he felt rejuvenated. It was an ideal day for an outing. While the sky was somewhat overcast, the sun shone brightly and no rain fell throughout the day, although several times it threatened to fall at any minute. The morning was passed with athletic games and sports, while some of the famous vocalists of the club tried out their voices in the morning air.

While the bake was being prepared by John Schussler, the boys gathered around a big table on which were piled all sorts of sandwiches, from cheese to ham. The Lyric Trio, the Perry brothers, Leo and "Al" and "Bill" Halloran, sang several popular airs such as "Sweet Adeline" assisted by other members of the vocal chorus.
During the morning the members of the regular Freeman ball team showed how easy it was to be defeated by the other members of the social club, but they laid their defeat to the fact that they had eaten too many sandwiches. There was only one casualty during the morning and that occurred when Everett Blanshaw, the advertising man, fell on a cheese sandwich, but he was quickly revived by the first aid society headed by John Hartman with a bottle of birch, assisted by John Rourke and the Huber brothers, Felix and Nicholas, in their white "lids."

President James V. Connelly was everywhere seeing to it that every one had a good time. The feature of the picnic was the white pants—excuse us, trousers—work by Kenneth Lang, which materially assisted in the usual scenic attractions of the outing grounds.
"Larry" Conroy arrived somewhat late but in time to show that he had brought his appetite with him, and Tommy McCall, the efficient caretaker of The Freeman building, stretched himself full length while sufficing the delicious odors borne on the breeze from the place where Mr. Schussler and his aides were busy getting the bake ready.
Kearn Kenney, James Hoban, Isaac Mesereau, Peter Spitz, Edward

Kuehn, Chris Ortleib, Harry Pruden and others of the club had such a good time that they were in favor of holding another outing later in the season.
Carroll, of the job department, who is noted angler, was the "wise guy" of the club and brought along his fishing tackle, but all he caught was a breeze that blew in from the river.
"Ken" Lang, the noted boy artist, thought sure that he would win first prize in the drawing contest, but unfortunately for "Ken" he did not have the experience of Henry Davitt who won out.
In the athletic contests the winners were John Hartman, Felix Huber and "Al" Perry.
Two more faces were missing from the club outing. They were "Henie" Munch and "Gene" Cornwell, who, earlier in the year were called to the colors. The club now numbers eight of its members serving Uncle Sam in the same efficient way that they had served The Freeman. The others are Lieutenant Dittus, Sergeant Edward Perry, and Privates Thomas Edwards, Frederick Hoffman, David Markson and Harry Frey, who is in the navy.

The club membership, the great majority of whom were present at the outing, follows:

ENTRAIN AUGUST 7.
Let's Give the Next Contingent to Go From Here a Hearty Send-off.
As told in The Freeman, the next contingent of Ulster county men called for the National Army will entrain from here Wednesday, August 7, on the 9:05 a. m. West Shore train for Fort Slocum, New Rochelle, N. Y.
Board 1 will have to provide 16 men; board 2 will have to furnish 14 men. Their names have already been published.
The usual parade will be held under the direction of Grand Marshal Atkins. The parade last time was smaller than usual and there were not as many persons at the station to see the boys off.
Let's all turn out this time and see the boys off and show them that those who have to stay at home appreciate what is being sacrificed by those who answer their country's call.
Don't forget to fly Old Glory when the boys entrain. Most families own at least one American flag and it only means a slight effort to fling it to the breeze.
The parade will start at 8:25 o'clock. The place of formation and line of march will be along the usual route.

Mabel Garrison sings "Kahki Sammy"

A brilliant song, full of energy, whose easy swing fairly carries you with it. As tuneful as a popular song but in no sense commonplace. This famous Metropolitan Opera artist sings it with a spirit she has doubtless caught in her work among the soldier boys.

Protein and Hog Feed.

Washington, D. C., August 5.—Feeds that are rich in protein, such as shorts, middlings, tankage and oil meal, so essential to the proper development of hogs, are hard to get and high in price. The United States department of agriculture is urging that hog growers provide substitutes for these feeds in the form of home-grown crops that are known to be rich in protein, and are advising the use of fish meal where it is obtainable. Alfalfa hay, soy beans, sorghums, and oats are suggested as good substitute feeds. In addition to these peanuts, cottonseed meal, and velvet beans are available to hog growers in the southern states.

Successful Picnic at Lomontville. The picnic held on the school grounds at Lomontville on Wednesday evening was exceptionally well attended. The affair was a success, both socially and financially, as $30 was realized.

Art Note.

There appears to be a gang of sculptors making busts of near-statesmen in Washington. Sculpting near-statesmen is making a bust of sculpture. Such a statue ought to be deferred until a man shall have been dead ten years and then very little of it will need to be made.—Houston Post.

TWELVE STARS FOR DENNING

Patriotic Gatherings Bear Witness to Loyalty of People of One of Ulster County's Mountain Towns.

On Sunday afternoon, July 28th, the service flag of the town of Denning, District 1, was hung to the breeze at Dewittville. In honor of this occasion the Hon. Harrington Putnam of Brooklyn, N. Y., addressed a large gathering. The Rev. William H. Hull of Grahamsville offered a dedicatory prayer and "The Star Spangled Banner" was rendered on the Victrola.

It was a proud hour for this patriotic community when the flag was raised, its twelve stars representing the following loyal sons of this district who are with the colors, several already in France:

Daniel Sagendorf.
Otis Bailey.
DeWitt Curtis.
Raymond Wells.
Virgil Murray.
Percy Buntion.
James O'Dell.
William Currey.
Grant Joslyn.
Bruce Curtis.
Oscar Hotelling.
Benjamin Conklin.
Judge Putnam has volunteered to have an honor roll containing these names printed and placed in the school, post offices, churches and town clerk's office of Denning. Such a roll of honor all citizens may point to with pride and it will be a constant reminder of what our boys are doing for their country and for us, and an inspiration to us all to do our part in every patriotic effort here at home.

The names given below are of those men and women of the district who contributed towards the purchase of the flag. Many others would gladly have given had opportunity been offered:

C. H. Bailey	$1.00
L. F. Bennett	1.00
W. E. Brown	.50
Gertrude Curtis	.50
Iva Roosa	1.00
Leander Taylor	.50
Frank Klotz	.50

Mr. and George W. Ertz	1.00
Mr. Fred M. Yale	1.00
Charles Brady	1.00
Adelbert Murray	1.00
Nicholas Voit	.50

The amount from cash sales or pledges for purchase of war savings stamps has now risen to $7,865. This, together with $2,940 from District 2, gives the grand total from Denning of $10,805. The first town of the county or state, we are told, that went over the top!

The Home Defense Committee of this district, consisting of Mrs. George W. Ertz, Mrs. Andrew George and Mrs. Fred Yale, assisted by the chairman, Mrs. Dimock, of Peekamoose and Miss Murray of Clarville, is now planning a community meeting and patriotic demonstration to be held at Clarville, Friday evening, August 9. At that time Miss Lillian A. Stuart, the popular and successful agent of food conservation for Ulster county, will give an interesting talk on war foods, illustrated with lantern slides. A speaker is expected to deliver a patriotic address and the chairman will present congratulations to the district and announce plans for a gathering under the auspices of the National Child Welfare Campaign. There will be singing of good old war songs. A large attendance is expected.

On Saturday morning, August 10, Miss Stuart will conduct a canning demonstration which will be full of interest and profit to all loyal housekeepers.

GOOD WAYS OF USING CURRANTS.

While currants are in season let us put up some for winter and use them fresh for various dishes. Fresh currants, mixed with sugar, make a most delicious breakfast fruit when well ripened.

Ripe Currant Pie.—Crush a cupful of ripe, red currants, add a cupful of sugar and let stand. Beat the yolks of two eggs and add two tablespoonfuls of water and a tablespoonful of corn flour or cornstarch; mix with the fruit and sugar and cook until smooth. Bake an under crust, fill with the cooked mixture, cover with a meringue, using the two whites and two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Spread over the top and brown in the oven.

Currant Cream Jelly.—Soak an ounce of gelatin in a cupful of water until soft, then add a cupful of boiling water and stir until the gelatin is dissolved. Add to this two-thirds of a cupful of currant juice and a cupful of raspberry juice. Sweeten to taste and stir until boiling hot over the fire. Strain and set aside to cool. Add a half cupful of powdered sugar to a pint of whipped cream; add to the gelatin mixture and beat until stiff. Turn into a wetted mold and pack in ice and salt several hours.

Frosted Currants.—Wash fine, large bunches of cherry currants, drain, dip in the white of egg, then in granulated sugar. Lay on paper to dry. Serve as dessert.

Currant and Cherry Conserve.—Take one pound of raisins, two pounds of tart cherries, three oranges (the juice and rind), four pounds of sugar; chop the fruit and cook for twenty minutes. Seal in small, airtight jars while hot.

Another Conserve.—Cook five pounds of currants until tender; add two pounds of chopped raisins, cook ten minutes, then add three pounds of sugar. Cook ten minutes, add the juice and grated rind of two oranges; reheat and put into jelly glasses. The seeds of the currant, if objectionable, may be strained out before adding the other fruit in this conserve.

Tobacco Raising in Scotland. During the American Civil war tobacco became so dear that several unsuccessful attempts were made in Scotland for its cultivation. The chief seat of the new culture was in the neighborhood of Kelso, where it succeeded so well that sixteen and one-half statute acres brought $520 per acre.

The flavor of Turkish, the "pep" of American—both in one cigarette

Nature never grew 1 tobacco that gives you everything you want in a cigarette. One tobacco has smoothness; one, fragrance; one, body; one, "pep" and so on. The ideal cigarette combines all these qualities. To get them all in the Mecca cigarette, they have to use 12 tobaccos—7 American and 5 Turkish. They take the 12 and mix them; but mixing isn't enough. They pass moist heat through them for 50 hours. Why? Because they've got to draw the smoothness and the fragrance of the Turkish leaf into the American, and the body and "pep" of the American into the Turkish until they make 1 tobacco from the 12. It's the famous Still-Blend process.

Painless Dentistry

The difference between painless and painful dentistry depends upon the carefulness and skillfulness of the operator. With good instruments, fresh medicines, local anesthetics and nitrous oxide gas a careful and skillful dentist can perform all operations painlessly, even to the extraction of teeth.

Painless methods, earnest endeavor and reasonable prices have in thirty years, made the Cady Dental Corporation the largest dental organization in New York state.

MARKSON IN PATROL FIGHT

James Connolly, president of the Freeman Social Club, has received the following letter from David Markson, a club member, now in the thick of fighting France:

Dear Jim:—Received a few copies of the Freeman the other day. They certainly were very newsy, much of it relating to the fellows in service. I have met many of the fellows from home and quite often they have asked me if I had any Freeman with me but until the other day I had no answer in the negative. After reading the ones which I received I handed them over to Joe Zech and some other Kingston fellows in the Headquarters Co., and they in turn will give them to their friends.

I am now in a rest camp arriving here after spending a few days up in the front line trenches. I was chiefly engaged in patrol work and on all occasions worked side by side with the French. In one of these trips we had proceeded far across "No Man's Land" and I might say not far from the enemy's line when we encountered a Hun ambush patrol. It was not long before they retreated leaving behind three dead and while doing so many shrieks and screams could be heard, this being caused by our machine gun fire. We all returned without a casualty and on every patrol we undertook gained much information. It sure is some life.

All the "Y" and K. of C. huts nearby have arranged for a big time tomorrow.

I certainly would like to see "Helene" in a uniform. Guess they will have to widen the trenches if he comes over here.

Give my regards to Pete, Mr. Norman and all the folks at home.

Miss Silverman.

Your friend,

DAVE MARKSON.

Sergeant Hamilton Killed. Word has been received in Kingston of the death in action of Sergeant James J. Hamilton, of Co. H, 165th Regiment (the old 68th), "Somewhere in France." Sergeant Hamilton will be remembered as one of the boys of the 1st Regiment, who were on duty guarding the Wilbur bridge. His home address was New York city. While in Kingston Sergeant Hamilton made a number of friends here.

FARM BOYS' CHANCE.

One From Each County Will Be Sent to State Fair.

Plans have been made for a farm boys' camp to be held at Syracuse state fair grounds during state fair week, September 9-14.

The ruling of the state fair commission for the camp is as follows: A boys' camp will be organized for state fair week, consisting of one farm reared boy from each county of the state between the ages of 14 and 18, inclusive.

The boy from Ulster county will be chosen at the Ulster county fair, Tuesday, August 20, in the afternoon at 2 o'clock. Boys entering the contest will be admitted to the fair free.

The boys will be examined of their knowledge of (a) livestock, (b) farm crops, (c) vegetables, (d) fruits, etc.

The farm bureau manager, master of the Pomona Grange, and the assistant secretary of the Ulster county fair will act as judges.

At the conclusion of the contest one boy will be chosen to attend the state fair. The traveling expenses and living expenses incident to the trip to the state fair will be met by the state fair commission.

Every farm reared boy who can qualify should enter this contest. The opportunity to attend the state fair should be taken advantage of. Any farm reared boy of Ulster county who presents himself to the judges at the Ulster county fair grounds, Ellenville, N. Y., before 2 o'clock of Tuesday, August 20, will be admitted. But if you are interested you are requested to send your name at once to H. L. Smith, assistant secretary Ulster county fair, Ellenville, N. Y.

UNDERNEATH THE CITY HALL DOME

Superintendent Harrison of the water department had a force of men busy on Sunday making permanent repairs to the water main where it crosses the Sawkill creek. During the winter temporary repairs had been made with the aid of a derrick. During the day the city was supplied with water on the low pressure.

The heavy rain storm of Sunday night brought welcome relief to the many gardens about the city.

Superintendent Harrison when seen this morning said that there was plenty of water in the city reservoirs.

The public drinking fountains about the city are being painted a bright green by the board of public works. The fountains still remain shut off until there is a change for the better in the glanders situation in Kingston.

Sunday morning at 2:34 o'clock a false alarm of fire was turned in from Box 36.

The usual Saturday night crop of drunks are a missing feature from the usual Monday morning lineup in police court these days. Whether it is because the "spirits" are not as strong as they used to be or for some other reason is not known.

Officer James Lawrence is enjoying his vacation this week. He expects to spend at least a part of it in the big city.

Indications now point to the fact that there will be no further oiling of the city streets this summer as the Department of Home Economics on the shipments of road oil. This season but a few streets were oiled. The fact that the usual number of streets were not oiled is not the fault of the board of public works as that body expected to have the same number of streets oiled as in past seasons and would have done so if they could have gotten the oil.

VICTORY MENUS.

These menus, planned to conserve time, labor and money, to save the foods that are scarce and use those of which there is an abundance, are Victory Menus in more senses than one. They are prepared by the Department of Home Economics of the State College of Agriculture and endorsed by the New York State Food Commission.

Monday.

Breakfast—Stewed apricots. Hominy grits. Top milk. Muffins. Creamed eggs. Coffee.

Lunch or Supper—Stuffed potatoes with "cheese." Lettuce and tomato salad. Wheatless bread. Butter.

Dinner—Chicken soufflé. Brown sauce. Boiled potatoes. Swiss chard. Grape sponge. Whipped cream.

May be omitted and still leave a balanced meal.

Milk for the children to drink at each meal.

Indications are that sugar will be increasingly scarce, because the ships which bring it from a distance to this country are needed for more essential things; because some of our neighboring countries have a smaller yield than usual this year as well as our own crop falling below the expected estimate. And justly because the submarines off the Atlantic coast sink a lot of sugar.

What sugar there is must be drawn upon for the preservation of the fruits. Therefore, we must necessarily cut down our use of sugar very drastically, using other sweets and fewer sweet dishes.

Chicken Soufflé.

2 cups scalded milk, 1-3 cup butter, 3/4 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 cup stale soft bread crumbs, 2 cups cold cooked chicken, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon finely chopped parsley, white 3 eggs, beaten stiff.

Make a sauce of the first five ingredients, add the bread crumbs, and cook 2 minutes. Remove from the fire, add the chicken, yolks of eggs, and parsley then fold in the whites. Turn in a buttered pudding dish, and bake 35 minutes in a slow oven. Veal may be used in place of chicken.

Grape Sponge.

Soak 2 tablespoons gelatin in 1 pint sweetened grape juice 10 minutes, then heat in a double boiler until the gelatin has dissolved. Add the juice of 1 lemon. Strain into a bowl, allow it to cool, stirring occasionally. When mixture begins to thicken, add the whites of 2 eggs, that have been beaten to a stiff froth. Turn into a mold, which has first been dipped in cold water, and chill. Remove from the mold and serve plain or with a custard sauce made from the yolks, or with whipped cream.

Recipes for any of the dishes in these menus which cannot be found in cook books, may be had by writing to the Department of Home Economics, State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.

BATS.

"What bright bats you all are. You

"We know two things, don't we, mother?" asked Bessie Bat.

"Yes, dear, you know two things.

Soon you will know more."

"Is it time to go yet?" asked Betty

Bat.

"Not quite," said Mother Bat.

"Then won't you tell me a story?"

asked Betty.

"I will, indeed," said the Mother

Bat.

"We are ready," the little bats whispered. So Mother Bat began.

"People," she said, "aren't fond of bats. Why, I can't tell you. We don't do them any harm. We are quiet and pleasant little creatures and we haven't nearly the number of bad habits they accuse us of. And so I think I shall tell you a true story—a little history about ourselves instead of a make-believe story, eh?"

And all the little bats whispered:

"Yes, a true story, all about us,

please."

"People," continued Mother Bat,

"think we have nothing in the world to do but to fly into their hair. They cover up their heads when they see us."

"Where did they get such an idea,

Mother Bat?" asked Bessie Bat.

"You see, dear loves, that in the

"TAKE IT FROM ME BOY, SOME BAKE"

So said they all Sunday at the Annual Outing of The Freeman Social Club held at Coddington's Dock.—It Was a Great Day.

War bread and steamed clams makes a happy combination as the members of The Freeman Social Club ascertained on Sunday at the annual outing and barbecue of the club held at Coddington's Dock.

The trip to Coddington's Dock and back was made by automobile. The members of the club meeting at The Freeman office at 5 o'clock that morning ready for an enjoyable day. That is, all the members with the exception of general George W. Styles, of the job department made the trip by automobile. Mr. Styles drove his own Yellow 31 car and arrived at the festive board some two hours later when he sang "It's a Long Long Trail" with much feeling and emotion and then placed three hand sandwiches under his belt along with a bottle of lemon pop when he announced that he felt rejuvenated.

It was an ideal day for an outing. While the sky was somewhat overcast there was no oppressive heat and no rain fell throughout the day. Although several times it threatened to fall at any minute. The morning was passed with athletic games and sports while some of the famous visitors of the club tried out their voices in the morning air.

While the lake was being prepared by John Schussler, the boys gathered around a big table on which were piled all sorts of sandwiches, from cheese to ham. The Larrie Trio, the Perry Brothers, Len and "Al" and "Bill" Halloran, sang several popular airs such as "Sweet Adeline" assisted by other members of the vocal chorus.

During the morning the members of the regular Freeman ball team showed how easy it was to be defeated by the other members of the social club, but they laid their defeat to the fact that they had eaten too many sandwiches. There was only one usually during the morning and that occurred when Everett Blanshon, the advertising man, fell on a cheese sandwich, but he was quickly revived by the first aid society headed by John Hartman and a bottle of birch, assisted by John Rourke and the Huber brothers, Felix and Nicholas, in their white "lids."

President James V. Connolly was everywhere seeing to it that every one had a good time. The feature of the picnic was the white pants—except one, trousers—work by Kenneth Lang which materially assisted in the usual scenic attractions of the outing grounds.

"Larry" Conroy arrived somewhat late but in time to show that he had brought his appetite with him and found it all the more efficient care-taker of The Freeman building, stretched himself full length while sniffing the delicious odors home on the breeze from the place where Mr. Schussler and his aides were busy getting the bake ready.

Kearn Kenner, James Huber, Isaac Mesereau, Peter Spitz, Edward

Kuehn, Chris Ortlieb, Harry Pruden and others of the club had such a good time that they were in favor of holding another outing later in the season.

Carroll, of the job department, who is noted angler, was the "wise guy" of the club and brought along his fishing tackle, but all he caught was a breeze that blew in from the river.

"Ken" Lang, the noted boy artist, thought sure that he would win first prize in the drawing contest, but unfortunately for "Ken" he did not have the experience of Henry Davitt who won out.

In the athletic contests the winners were John Hartman, Felix Huber and "Al" Perry.

Two more faces were missing from the club outing. They were "Hunk" Munch and "Gee" Gravel, who earlier in the year were called to the colors. The club now numbers eight of its members serving Uncle Sam in the same efficient way that they had served The Freeman.

The others are Lieutenant Dittus Sergeant Edward Perry, and Private Thomas Edwards, Frederick Hoffman, David Markson and Harry Frey, who is in the navy.

The club membership, the great majority of whom were present at the outing, follows:

Let's Give the Next Contingent to Go From Here a Hearty Send-off.

As told in The Freeman, the next contingent of Ulster county men called for the National Army will entrain from here Wednesday, August 7, on the 9.05 a. m. West Shore train for Fort Slocum, New Rochelle, N. Y.

Board 1 will have to provide 16 men. Board 2 will have to furnish 14 men. Their names have already been published.

The usual parade will be held under the direction of Grand Marshal Atkins. The parade last time was smaller than usual and there were not as many persons at the station to see the boys off.

Let's all turn out this time and see the boys off and show them that those who have to stay at home appreciate what is being sacrificed by those who answer their country's call.

"Send them away with a smile."

Mabel Garrison sings "Kahki Sammy"

A brilliant song, full of energy, whose easy swing fairly carries you with it. As tuneful as a popular song but in no sense commonplace. This famous Metropolitan Opera artist sings it with a spirit she has doubtless caught in her work among the soldier boys.

"They Were All Out of Step But Jim"

Billy Murray presents one of his inimitable Irish songs with all the humor that its title suggests.
